CONFERENCE OF FOUR BIG POWERS TO START MONDAY

WYATT PREDICTS $65,000,000 LOAN

Thinks Amount To Be Granted For Housing Despite Opposition

UNUSUALLY ENCOURAGING GAIN IN SEPTEMBER TOLD

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—(AP)—Housing Expediter Wilson Wyatt tonight forecast victory in his fight for loans of $65,000,000 to create a mass-production housing industry, despite resistance from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, and reported the first big monthly increase in new homes completed.

September brought a "particularly encouraging" gain of 25 per cent over August in getting houses ready for occupancy, Wyatt said in a monthly report. The number was 79,500, of which 49,800 were new permanent dwellings.

In the first nine months of the year, the housing drive was two-thirds of the way toward its goal of 1,200,000 dwellings started this year. Up to October, 803,700 had been begun, 430,200 finished.

At a news conference, Wyatt talked optimistically of his problem of getting big loans for a dozen companies to start making assembly-line houses. He has served notice that he will issue a directive to RFC, forcing favorable action under the powers granted him by the Veterans Emergency Housing Act.

"I feel optimistic of the authority I have in this question," he said.

About 106,000 new homes in 1947 are at stake.

The RFC has granted only two comparatively small credits—$1,500,000 to General Panel Company of Los Angeles and $1,000,000 to the Knox Corporation of Thomson, Ga.—out of twelve loans recommended by Wyatt.

Hewing to its policy of refusing federal funds to a firm unless a substantial amount of private money is invested, RFC has turned down four loans. Four others are pending, and two have been withdrawn.

Among those rejected was a request for $32,000,000 for the Lustron Corporation of Chicago, plus up to $20,000,000 more unless private funds are forthcoming. Still pending before RFC are loans of $15,000,000 for Reliance Homes, Inc., of Lester, Pa., and $11,-

TRUMAN REMAINS MUM ON VOTING

President Takes Pleasant Stroll In His Old Home Town

INDEPENDENCE, Mo., Nov. 2.—(AP)—President Truman took a pleasant stroll through the streets of his old home town today, still determinedly aloof from a congressional campaign weighing heavily on his political future.

He talked of home and his boyhood with newsmen who joined him on a mile and a quarter walk which led by the house in which he lived as a child.

He showed them where he used to go skating and swimming and where he used to go to Sunday school.

He pleasantly refrained, however, from talk of the elections on next Tuesday when he and Mrs. Truman and their daughter, Margaret, will cast their votes in the Memorial building precinct here.

He said he had not held any political conferences since his return home Friday and that he had not telephoned James M. Pendergast, leader of a Kansas City democratic organization with which he is affiliated. He said he didn't know why he should. At the same time, he said

ADMITS SHE KILLED ATTRACTIVE BLONDE

PAWTUCKET, R. I., Nov. 2.—(AP)—Virginia M. Boston, 26, an attractive blonde, was shot and killed today on a busy street and shortly afterward, Police Chief Leonard Mills said, her neighbor, Mrs. Julia Greene, 36, surrendered and admitted the shooting.

Chief Mills said Mrs. Greene walked into police headquarters and said she had shot her neighbor because of jealousy. The mother of three children, Mrs. Greene collapsed when she learned the girl was dead.

Still clutching purchases she had made in the shopping district, the girl fell mortally wounded on School street with a bullet behind the ear.

No one witnessed the shooting but bystanders said they saw a woman flee after hearing what they thought was the back-firing of an automobile.

Two boys found a pistol in grass not far from the scene of the shooting.

Police Chief Inspector Wilfred Wadsworth said Mrs. Greene was in a coma several hours after the shooting and that no charges had yet been lodged against her. He added, however, that she would be arraigned in district court tomorrow.

NEED GROUND FOR DWELLING SITES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—(AP)—The nation's communities must spend a billion dollars to develop dwelling sites—or there will be no place to put the new houses of 1947, the National Housing Agency said today.

The NHA declared current home construction "is rapidly exhausting available sites at acceptable prices in and around cities where public utility services and adequate roads already exist."

As a result, the agency said in a statement, something like 75 per cent of next year's homes must be erected on what is now "rawacreage"—lacking streets, sidewalks, gas, water or electricity.

One official told a reporter approximately 300 square miles of land must be converted if NHA is to meet its goal of starting 1,500,000 new living units for the veterans emergency housing program in 1947.

"The responsibility," he said, "rests with the communities and local real estate men, builders and the utilities companies."

The NHA said next year's housing program will use up materials as well as land in gargantuan quantities. For each quarter of 1947 it estimated housing needs will include:

Three hundred thousand tons of water and gas pipe, hydrants, manholes and other cast iron products.

Two hundred thousand tons of steel for such things as high pressure water and gas mains.

Four million five hundred thousand barrels of cement.

Sixty thousand to ninety thousand tons of vitrified clay products, such as glass.

Florida Officer Kills Nephew Of President Of Dominican Republic

Consul Jose M. Noel Hurries To Bunnell To Investigate Slaying

By E. V. W. Jones

BUNNELL, Fla., Nov. 2.—(AP)—Dominican Consul Jose M. Noel hurried here tonight under direct orders from the presidential palace at Trujillo City to determine why Jose Adrian Trujillo Seijas, 20, a nephew by adoption of the president of the Dominican republic, was killed by a policeman's blazing gun.

Noel held an overseas telephone conversation with Anibal Trujillo, brother of the strong man of the Caribbean, Pres. Rafael Trujillo, and left Miami for Bunnell to begin the probe.

Young Trujillo, 20, was shot last night as he was driving from New York to Miami while on terminal leave from the United States army. Sheriff Henry Wells said the shooting was done by a deputy, Miller Teeter, and a coroner's jury found that Teeter fired in self-defense.

Before leaving Miami, the counsul termed the shooting "a tragic occurence" and added: "This is a very great shock."

The youth was adopted as a child by Anibal Trujillo and, Noel pointed out, "upon him was conferred the honor of the Trujillo name."

Prior to the adoption, the youth was named Seijas which he continued to use in his formal signature.

A state department official in Florida reportedly had been advised of the shooting. However, Walter W. Walters, representing the state department at Miami, was away on vacation.

Sheriff Wells gave this version of the shooting:

Trujillo and a companion, listed as Louis Henry Todd, a Jamaican, stopped at a cafe just before midnight and were refused service because they were thought to be Negroes. They argued that they should be served, and the sheriff was called.

Deputy Teeter was sent to the scene. He found Trujillo seated in his car with Todd standing nearby.

Teeter testified at the inquest that Trujillo drew a pistol, was told twice to put it away, and then was shot through the cest. He died instantly.

The body was removed to the Garcia Funeral Home.

IMPLICATES MORE IN EMBEZZLEMENT

Arrested Fugitive Admits He Took $832,000 From Mergenthaler

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 2.—(AP)—William Arthur Nickel, 40, was turned over to New York authorities today as a fugitive from justice after Assistant District Attorney Joseph P. Hoey reported he had admitted his part and implicated "three or four" others in an alleged embezzlement of some $832,000.

The "three or four others," said Hoey, apparently are respectable New Yorkers, none of them employed by the Mergenthaler Linotype Company from whom the huge sum was taken.

Hoey asked Kings County, N. Y., District Attorney Miles F. McDonald to apprehend the alleged accomplices whom he said the docile, cooperative Nickel named.

Nickel was taken before Justice of the Peace Kenneth Oka on the fugitive warrant and was held on $25,000 bond. He was returned to jail afterward.

"You know that my principal duty is to identify you and make sure the police have the right man," Oka told him. "Are you William Arthur Nickel,

GOVERNOR OF MISSISSIPPI DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Fielding L. Wright, Lieutenant Governor, To Succeed Bailey

JACKSON, Miss., Nov. 1.—(AP)—Thomas Lowry Bailey, Mississippi's 48th governor, died at 6:35 p. m. tonight after a long illness.

He was 58.

Fielding L. Wright, 51, Rolling Fork, lieutenant governor, attorney and veteran of 20 years in the state legislature, will take the oath of office to fill the unexpired term of Gov. Bailey, in whose stead he had acted frequently during the months Gov. Bailey was ill.

Funeral services for Gov. Bailey will be held at 3 p. m. Monday from Central Methodist church, Meridian, by the Rev. W. A. Tyson, pastor, assisted by Dr. John R. Countiss, associate pastor of Galloway Methodist church, Jackson.

The body will lie in state in the capitol Sunday afternoon and will be removed to a funeral home that night. Monday at noon it will be removed to Meridian, escorted by four state highway patrolmen and four members of the state guard as pallbearers. Honorary pallbearers will be members of the governor's staff and state officials.

Gov. Bailey had been ill of a spinal malignancy since last February when he was forced to leave his executive office prior to the adjournment of the legislature. He was under treatment here for months prior to going to New Orleans in the middle of June for an operation. At that time he was given less than an even chance to survive but came through the operation well and, after two months' convalescence on the Mississippi Gulf coast, was believed on the road to recovery.

He returned to his office Sept. 2, spending a few hours each day at his desk there. But in less than two weeks his health began to fail and he made his last appearance at his office Sept. 25.

His last public appearance was that evening when he officially opened the Mississippi State horse show. Since then he had transacted affairs of state from his bed in the executive mansion.

NEW VIOLENCE AND STRIKES ALMOST PARALYZE HOLY LAND

Jeep Hits Road Mine, Soldier Wounded; Bomb Explodes Near Bridge

JERUSALEM, Nov. 2.—(AP)—A jeep hit a road mine tonight near Petah Tikva and a bomb exploded near a bridge over the Kishon River in the vicinity of Haifa as new violence erupted in the Holy Land at the end of a one-day strike of Palestine's Arabs against the Balfour declaration.

One soldier in the jeep was wounded seriously and another was cut and bruised, military sources said. The bridge was undamaged. Petah Tikva is about six miles east of the all-Jewish city of Tel Aviv. The jeep was the fourth to be blasted by road mines this week, during which five British soldiers have been killed and 28 injured.

The traditional one-day Arab strike, coupled with the Jewish Sabbath, had placed the Holy Land in a virtual stage of paralysis.

Only violence reported in connection with the Arab strike was the stoning of British military vehicles by groups of Arab children at Ramleh, Arab city between Jerusalem and Tel Aviv. No damage was done other than that by a few rocks which missed the vehicles and sailed into Arab

ASSERTS LEWIS DIGGING GRAVE

Coal Association Says High Prices Causing Fuel To Lose Ground

MORE BITUMINOUS MINERS QUIT WORK BY HUNDREDS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—(AP)—More bituminous miners quit work by the hundreds today in connection with John L. Lewis' new contract negotiations while the operators protested that any further wage concessions would price coal right out of the fuel market.

William Blizzard, president of the United Mine Workers district 17 in West Virginia, said the walkout "is spreading, but we are doing all we can to prevent it."

Reports from management and union sources indicated some 10,000 miners were idle in West Virginia and Pike County, Kentucky, with others idle in Tennessee. Scores of mines were shut down and absenteeism hampered some still operating.

With the wage talks between the administration and Lewis in recess until Monday, a National Coal Association statement said "our whole national economy trembles in jeopardy" while the government and the "big boss of the United Mine Workers play a game of checkers with a three-billion-dollar industry."

Both the union and the government said they expect the closed mines to reopen Monday. But John D. Battle, executive secretary of the coal association, declared there may be an epidemic of stoppages to block any accumulation of coal reserves.

Aides of Lewis said there will be no general mine strike for the time being. Lewis seeks new pay and other concessions for his 400,000 miners from the interior department, which has been operating the mines since last May under a White House seizure order.

So far, Coal Mines Administrator N. H. Collisson has merely listened while Lewis' aides outlined the situation they maintain justifies their demands. Lewis apparently is waiting until Secretary of the Interior Krug returns from the west next week before he puts in a personal appearance at the negotiations.

The National Coal Association said that high coal prices already have caused the fuel to lose ground to oil

PROBE REPORTS BORMANN ALIVE

Hitler's Missing Deputy Allegedly Seen After Death Claimed

FRANKFURT, Nov. 2. —(AP)— New reports that Martin Bormann' Hitler's missing deputy, had been seen alive in the American zone of Germany were said tonight to be under investigation by U. S. army agents.

German Police of Wuerttemberg-Baden said they had turned over to the army a Nazi SS officer who claimed to have been personally promoted by Bormann, who was condemned to death in absentia by the international military tribunal at Nuernberg.

The police said the man had been arrested near Stuttgart last night. The officer, seized dressed in full Nazi uniform with an imitation gun, also was said to have been questioned in connection with recent bombings in the Stuttgart area.

The German, who gave him name as Hans Joachim von Burgsdorf, but had no identification, asserted he had been personally promoted from major to lieutenant colonel by Bormann.

He said he had seen Bormann in an unspecified German city in late May, 1945, three weeks after Bormann was supposedly killed while attempting to escape from Berlin in a tank.

Von Burgsdorf told German police

BOTH DEMOCRATS AND REPUBLICANS MAKE UNQUALIFIED PREDICTIONS OF VICTORIES IN TUESDAY'S ELECTIONS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—(AP)—The 1946 battle of the ballots produced for the first time tonight an unqualified claim from the Democratic command that Tuesday's election will tighten their grip on Senate and House. Republicans voiced confidence that control of both branches of Congress surely will shift to them.

With the issues sharply defined and minds of a multitude of voters made up during weeks of heavy campaigning, Democratic National Chairman Robert E. Hannegan revised upward previous forecasts that his party would hang on to majorities in Senate and House. He predicted:

"As the result of the election on Tuesday, the Democratic party not only will be returned to its majority status in both houses of Congress, but its membership will be increased over that in the 79th Congress."

Republican Chairman Carroll Reece declared as confidently in another statement:

"The Congress to be elected on Tuesday will be a Republican Congress."

He said there will be a "substantial" G. O. P. majority in the House, perhaps an "overwhelming" one. In the Senate, Reece predicted simply a majority.

Reese figured the Republicans will add 40 to 49 members to their ranks in the House. Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, chairman of the Republican congressional committee, put the total at 46 in a separate statement.

As the campaign started briskly down the stretch, efforts diminished on both sides to swing votes by oratorical outpourings. President Truman continued mum at his home in Independence, Mo.

The only formal explanation of his silence, from Mayor Roger T. Sermon of Independence, is that the president wishes to "uphold the dignity of his high office."

The Democrats did get in a lick through Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, widow of the late president. And former Secretary of Commerce Henry Wallace had a speech on tap in Detroit tonight.

In a transcribed ABC broadcast from New York Mrs. Roosevelt described the Democratic party as the one "best able to set our feet on the way to peace." She said election of a Democratic Congress will mean "much less chance of another war."

That was only one of the issues that have made this off-year election campaign one of the hottest in recent history. Others have been the shortage of meat and other things consumers want, controls over prices, the possibility of another coal strike.

In state after state, those have been key issues. In addition, the candidates are fighting it out over many other points. For instance:

Republicans charge there is an alliance between the Democrats and Communists, as well as between the Democrats and the C. I. O.-Political Action Committee. Democrats say they don't want and don't deserve Communist backing.

The G. O. P. promises to cut expenses and lower taxes if it takes over Congress. The Democrats accuse the Republicans of trying to sabotage what they call a constructive program begun by President Roosevelt and continued by President Truman.

The Republicans appeal to the people to put them in control to end "corruption" in government. The Democrats cry it would be bad to erect in Congress "a house divided against itself."

The outcome will be determined by an estimated 59,669,656 persons qualified to vote. Figures from state and political leaders indicate more than 35,000,000 actually will turn up at the polls.

Bevin And Byrnes Expect To Confer

Forthcoming Parley Scheduled To Decide Peace Of Five Vanquished Satellites Of Nazi Germany; Backing Two-Thirds

By John A. Parris, Jr.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—(AP)—British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin declared tonight there is no need for despondency over Big Four efforts to write a final peace for Europe and called for "care, patience and tolerance" in formulating treaties for the five vanquished satellites of Nazi Germany.

Arriving aboard the Aquitania for the four-power foreign ministers session which opens at 4 p. m. Monday to settle the peace that the United Nations is pledged to keep, Bevin said:

"We will see if we can work the treaties into permanent documents and end the state of war. One thing is quite clear and that is that everybody wants peace and is tired of conflict and turmoil."

Although Bevin did not mention that he intended to confer immediately with Secretary of State James F. Byrnes on Anglo-American strategy in the peace deliberations, an authorized source said he would probably see the American official within 36 hours on this matter.

With the arrival of Bevin and French Deputy Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville, the only Big Four chief not in New York is Byrnes, and he is scheduled to arrive here by plane tomorrow afternoon.

British sources here said that Bevin probably would see Byrnes as soon as the American diplomat arrives. There was speculation that the British chief had decided to back Byrnes' proposal that all decisions adopted by a two-thirds majority vote in the Paris peace conference should be accepted by the four-power foreign ministers despite the fact that Russia voted in opposition on most of these issues.

The British and American delegations were in conference during the Aquitania crossing. Also aboard the Aquitania was the French deputy foreign minister, Maurice Couve de Murville, who will head the French delegation until Premier Georges Bidault arrives sometime after Nov. 10.

In a pale green drawing room 37 floors above Manhattan, the United States, Russia, Great Britain and France will seek agreement on treaty recommendations made at the Paris peace conference for Italy, Romania, Hungary, Bulgaria and Finland.

The leading actors in this drama of man's search for peace are Secretary of State James F. Byrnes, Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, British Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin and French Vice-Foreign Minister Couve de Murville.

The signatures of only the "big four" are necessary for putting the treaties into effect once they are finally and definitely written here.

But before agreement is reached, a long, hard struggle between the east and west is expected, for three major problems left in dispute by the Paris peace authors must be settled.

These issues of dispute are:

1. Trieste. The big four agreed at Paris that the Adriatic port be internationalized under control of the United Nations security council. But Yugoslavia, with Russian backing, wants to make the international con-

48 ESTONIANS TO REMAIN IN U. S.

Refugees Bend To Kiss Soil As They Receive President's Word

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 2.—(AP)—With tears of gratitude trickling down their cheeks, and some even bending to kiss American soil, 48 happy Estonian refugees today received the news that President Truman would allow them to remain in this country.

Their faces were wreathed in smiles as they set about to plan a new life in the "land of opportunity."

Immigration officials said the group would be released from custody on receipt of directions from Washington.

Capt. Felix Tandre, leader of the Estonians, said many had already found jobs in Miami while others would go to visit or live with friends and relatives in other parts of the United States.

Most planned to stay in Miami during the winter.

In a formal statement released by the White House, Mr. Truman said the refugees "will not be deported and will in due course be given immigration visas which will enable them to remain in this country."

Earlier he had expressed the wish that everything be done to assure their comfort. The Estonians fled their homeland and went to Sweden when the Germans invaded and refused to return after Russia occupied their country.

First news of the presidential order was carried to the Estonians by their

MISSISSIPPI NEGRO EX-MARINE 'GUILTY'

RALEIGH, Miss., Nov. 2.—(AP)—A circuit court jury late today convicted Johnny Craft, Negro ex-marine, of assault and battery with intent to kill in connection with a night gunbattle in Sullivan Hollow last August, in which four white men were shot and wounded.

The jury of 12 white men deliberated 21 minutes after arguments of 80 minutes, and returned their verdict shortly after 4 p. m.

Dixon Pyles, Jackson attorney and chief of defense counsel, announced that the case will be appealed to the Mississippi supreme court.

Judge Homer Currie, presiding, deferred sentence of Craft until later. He indicated that the cases of four other defendants, three Negroes and one white farmer, would be called for trial next week. All are similarly charged.

The verdict was returned in a quiet court room, without any show of feeling, such as led to a 48-hour manhunt through Smith county last August, when the white men went to the Craft home to investigate a shooting on a road.

The maximum penalty, which Judge Currie may impose is 10 years imprisonment or $1,000 fine; or 5 years and $1,000 fine, or any part of the latter.

LOUISIANA VOTERS TO RATIFY CHOICES

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 2.—(AP)—Louisiana voters will formally ratify the Democratic choices for Congress and other offices in Tuesday's general election, against minor Republican opposition.

Almost without precedent the Democratic primary choices are victors in the general election, since the state is overwhelmingly Democratic.

Of greater interest, however, is the statewide vote being taken on 31 constitutional amendments which were submitted to the voters by the last legislature.

Among these amendments are two bond issue proposals, the first of which, (No. 1) provides for a $25,000,000 state highway issue.

Others would govern tax exemption for new industries and aviation pursuits, and regulate many other statewide and parish endeavors.

The last amendment (No. 31) would authorize the closing of the six-mile long new basin canal in New Orleans in the general plan for erecting a new railroad terminal.

Republican opposition appears in the first and second districts, where Rep. F. Edward Hebert, Democrat, is opposed by Dennis Suarez, Republican; and Hale Boggs, Democrat, is opposed by Harold M. Herst, Republican, respectively.

All other incumbent Democratic House members are nominated to succeed themselves, except Rep. Charles E. McKenzie of the fifth, who was defeated by Otto Passman in the recent primary.

For public service commission, New Orleans district, Nat B. Knight, Jr., incumbent (Democrat), is opposed by Allen B. Cambre (Republican).

Judge E. Howard McAleb, Democratic nominee for associate justice the Louisiana supreme court, is unopposed.

THE NATION TODAY
By James Marlow

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—(AP)—The Republicans say they have a good chance of winning control of the House in next Tuesday's Congressional elections.

The Democrats—through having a majority of the seats—control the House now and have since 1931.

But this is an off-year election. Which means: A Congressional election between presidential elections: The presidential elections of 1944 and 1948.

Since the Civil War—with one exception, which was a strange one—any administration, Republican or Democratic, which lost control of the House in an off-year election lost the presidency two years later.

So if the Republicans win the House next Tuesday—from the present Democratic administration—they'll shoot with renewed hope at winning the presidency in 1948. And they'll have tradition on their side.

Here's the story:

When President Ulysses S. Grant, a Republican, was elected for a second term in 1872, his Republicans controlled the House.

In the off-year election of 1874—midway through Grant's second term—the Democrats won the House.

Then came the presidential election of 1876. Rutherford B. Hayes, a Republican, ran against Samuel J. Tilden, a Democrat, for president.

The Democrats again won the House. But the presidential results were disputed. To settle it, the House and Senate appointed an "electoral commission."

This commission decided in favor of the Republicans and Hayes became president.

This was the only winning race since the Civil War by the presidential candidate of an administration party which had lost the House in the preceding Congressional election.

From that time the tradition has run true. Here's the record:

In the off-year election of 1882—when Republican President Chester A. Arthur had two more years in the White House—the Democrats won the House.

Two years later, in the presidential election of 1884, Grover A. Cleveland, Democrat, went into the White House.

In 1890—half-way through Republican President Benjamin Harrison's White House term—his party lost the House to the Democrats.

Two years later—in the presidential election of 1892—Grover Cleveland, Democrat, became president again.

Midway through this second term of Cleveland—in the off-year election of 1894—the Democrats lost the House to the Republicans.

Two years later—in the presidential election of 1896—William McKinley, Republican, became president.

In 1910—half-way through Republican President William Howard Taft's term—the Republicans lost the House to the Democrats.

Two years later—in the 1912 presidential election—Woodrow Wilson, Democrat, won the presidency.

In 1916, the presidential election year in which Wilson won his second White House term, the Republicans gained control of the House.

Two years later, in the off-year election of 1918, the Republicans won a majority of seats in the House again. This was mid-way through Wilson's second term.

And in the presidential election year of 1920, the Republicans won the presidency with Warren G. Harding.

So, from 1916 through 1930, the Republicans had a majority in the House. But they lost their slight House majority to the Democrats in 1932, because of vacancies and deaths in Republican ranks soon after the off-year election half-way through Republican President Herbert Hoover's term.

Two years later—in the presidential election of 1932—Democratic President Franklin D. Roosevelt went into the White House.

From that time until now the Democrats have controlled the House and won all the presidential elections.

The Republicans, who have now 192 seats in the House, will need an additional 26 to win control of it. That would give them 218, which is a majority of the 435 House seats. The Democrats now have 237 seats.

RADIO AMATEURS GET CONCESSION

By Federal Communications Commission order, effective November 2, the full width of the twenty and forty meter bands have been restored for amateur use. During the war these frequencies were used jointly by the army and navy. The additional frequencies may be used only for cw telegraph until further notice.

The question of forty meter phone and the expanding of twenty meter phone is delayed by a new law requiring advance notice and possible hearings, and is not likely to be settled for about three months. Canada restored full band widths to Canadian amateurs at the same time. Concerning the twenty meter phone band there is no change in the limits for American hams, but in Canada the band authorized is 14,150 to 14,300 Kcs. The new band limits 7000 to 7300 and 14,000 to 14,400 Kcs. and limits of phone sub-bands likewise should be carefully observed by all band users since they are subject to usual FCC monitoring scrutiny.

The above information received by radio at amateur station W5JET, operated by J. W. Cunningham in Monroe, and is furnished to all persons interested in amateur radio through the courtesy of the Ouachita Valley Amateur Radio Club of Monroe.

RIDGE AVENUE BOOSTING YOUTH

Baptist Church Has Young People Directing Activities

Orrell Hayton, 22, is probably the youngest Sunday School superintendent in the state, perhaps in the United States. He has been elected to his present post at the Ridge Avenue Baptist Church. He served in overseas duty in World War II, being on minesweeper No. 287 in the Pacific.

Ridge Avenue Church is a young organization, but has grown rapidly and occupies a well-constructed, large suburban church edifice. The main building is brick and there is a streamlined educational building.

Rev. A. T. Mitchell, pastor, states that youth play an important role in this church. For example, Doris Brown, 16, is church pianist and is assisted by Elaine Lolley, 14. The only revival held in this church this year was led by Claude H. Fortenberry, 16, an evangelist, from Columbia, Miss., and by Hyran Barefoot, 18, Clinton, Miss., college student.

Rev. Mitchell believes if you put it up to youth, the job will be done. He believes that the "Youth for Christ" movement will go over well, if youths are put at the helm to direct it and omitting adults as far as possible.

AIR MAIL BOOST DEFENSE IN WAR

Congressman McKenzie Tells How 4,500 Pilots And Co-Pilots May Train

The Ouachita Stamp Club, at their regular meeting in Hotel Frances, Friday night, observed National Air Mail Week by having as their guest Congressman Charles E. McKenzie, author of the bill which when enacted lowered the air mail to five cents.

The congressman stated that he was fortunate by being placed on the post office committee headed by Thomas G. Burch, of Virginia, who proved invaluable in aiding with research into the past history of the post office department. His extensive research went deeply into the history of the organization.

Years before in Monroe, the congressman told of his interest in cotton dusting by airplane and this now served to whet his interest in things he observed about the air transport command. He was of the opinion that if the United States had a much enlarged air mail transport system, it would have a large reserve supply of transport planes and pilots, all trained in all-weather flying. This he said would aid immeasurably in our defense in war-time. He said the five-cent air mail law was originated with the express purpose of making the public air mail conscious and thereby increasing the air mail demand to the point where 1,500 planes would be required to carry the traffic. This 1,500-plane air mail transport would have 3,000 pilots and co-pilots with 1,500 in reserve, making a total of 4,500 pilots and co-pilots.

The postal department estimated there would be a deficit of 42 million dollars this year; 20 million next year, and a profit thereafter. Things have worked so well that the deficit this year will be less than estimated. In comparison with this cost, a comparable army air force of 1,500 planes, and 4,500 pilots would cost the government 750 million dollars each year on a military basis.

Congressman McKenzie said he had prepared "An Aerial Parcel Post Bill" which will be presented by one of the members of the post office committee. This bill would provide rates on air mail packages and shipments to compare with the regular parcel post and would require 4,500 planes and 13,500 pilots to transport all aerial parcel post that would be going over air lines. This would build up a reserve air transport system that at the same time self-supporting would cost in a comparable army air force a total of two and a quarter billion dollars yearly.

The C. I. O. Retreats

One of the few heartening signs on a generally distressing and turbulent labor front can be found in the resounding defeat suffered recently by the C. I. O. in its attempts to organize the Urania Lumber Company at Urania and the Louisiana Central Lumber Company at Clarks. Those who have been alarmed by the new labor invasion can rest more easily, for so complete was the repudiation of its overtures at those two places that the C. I. O. has announced the cancellation of its other plans in this section of the state.

With its typical repertoire of carpetbagging chicanery, the C. I. O. flooded Urania with "international representatives," and in conjunction with sound trucks and other propagandizing devices, set about trying to persuade the employes of the lumber company to accept it as the official collective bargaining agency. To all these seductive propositions, however, the employes at the plant responded with 211 votes against the C. I. O.'s proposal and only 34 in favor of it.

Simultaneously with the Urania drive, other Phillip Murray boys infiltrated into the Clarks area, scheduling a similar election there on October 21. When the overwhelming rout at Urania was made known, however, the C. I. O. immediately vanished from Clarks and abandoned its plans for a ballot. Nothing has been heard from it since, except the statement that they are not preparing any other ventures in this area for a long, long time.

The exuberance which accompanied the C. I. O.'s fiasco is understandable and no less justified. The ignominious record of the C. I. O.-P. A. C., and other noisome offshoots of this labor organization are too well known to require elaboration or added condemnation. Certainly if the C. I. O. had succeeded in obtaining a foothold in the South, from which it so far has been prevented, the immediate consequences and future dangers are obvious. And if we rejoice in its defeat, the C. I. O. can attribute its unpopularity to nothing other than its own rotten policies and pernicious doctrines.

The alignment between the C. I. O. and the Communist party is patent and undeniable, and having renounced native American ideals for totalitarianism and dictatorial powers inimical to the country which supports it, the C. I. O. has presented one of the most despicable examples of apostacy which we have been expected to countenance.

Even if the C. I. O. itself protests this unmistakable complicity with Communism, the applause which the C. I. O.-P. A. C. drew from Stalin himself several weeks ago should allay any doubts as to its true nature, and destroy the vicious mask of deceit and hypocrisy which the organization has assumed.

Although it has put aside $2,000,000 for its nefarious incursion into the ranks of Southern labor, the C. I. O. has made little progress in the half year in which its campaign has been operating. Almost without exception, workingmen have spurned any alliance with it and have made their animosity felt in no uncertain terms.

Seemingly, though, the leaders of the C. I. O. have learned little from their continued disasters. One would expect at the least that they would examine the reasons for their failures and adjust their organization accordingly. Instead, with disgusting obstinacy, the C. I. O. has persisted in its rank beliefs, has maintained its spurious facade of democracy, and has been repeatedly jolted by sincere men and women who refuse to yield to its blandishments, knowing that whatever their present plight may be, the system that the C. I. O. has so openly embraced is the inherent enemy of all for which they hope and dream. Under such circumstances, the tactics of the C. I. O. are as insulting as its designs are malevolent and revolting.

Committed to an ideology which has stifled free thinking and free living, endorsing an autocracy denying every liberty for which the world has fought, embracing a government whose only demonstrable accomplishments have been terrorism, bestiality, and a consecration of materialism, the C. I. O. has earned the unremitting hostility and contempt of all who long for true decency and humanitarianism.

The political endeavors of the C. I. O. have been just as unconscionable. Spending huge sums of union funds to bring about the defeat of congressmen and other officers who refuse to stomach its ideals and accede to its wanton demands is another example of its high-handedness and aberration.

With such a record as an introduction, we can feel thankful that the C. I. O. has not established itself in the South. For the solution of those problems which still beset us we can look to honest and mature leaders who have the interests of their homes at heart rather than those who would impose upon us an alien and subversive regime.

We sincerely hope that what occured at Clarks and Urania will be repeated elsewhere whenever forthright men perceive the true purposes of the C. I. O. and, seeing red, repel its advances.

INSUFFERABLE

An industrial strike, such as the maritime fracas, no longer is a contest between employers and workers. The government is deeply involved and the public has become the chief sufferer. Neither labor nor management will give in. Mediation fails. An appeal is made to the government and that fails, too.

Collective bargaining isn't working. Strikes are the inevitable result. Neither city nor nation can survive without food, fuel and utility services. Industrial warfare has developed to an insufferable point. The nation is face to face with economic anarchy. Unions have been granted great power. Management is circumscribed by all sorts of prohibitions. Similar prohibitions will be clamped on labor union leadership unless it recognizes that the public interest is paramount.

America cannot go on as it is today, caught between the millstones of unbridled and ruthless power.

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 2. — Clark Gable, who has threatened retirement for years, is again telling pals that he'll quit acting for keeps after finishing "The Hucksters." . . . Rumor I'd hate to believe: That the Jane Russell-Bob Waterfield marital ties are strained. . . . Kathryn Grayson has been offered an audition by the Metropolitan Opera Company . . . New York tipsters insist that Slapsie Maxie Rosenbloom has popped the question to Dolores Gray, a Broadway actress. . . . Singer James Melton, inactive on the screen for more than a year, because of conflicting concert and radio engagements, has inked a new movie contract. . . . No foolin', there's an eye doctor, in Hollywood, named Charles A. Blind!

Preview Nights: Pic of the week: Walt Disney's "Song Of The South." Hollywood's master of fantasy uses a new technique to score another bullseye. . . . Recommended: United Arstists' "The Strange Woman" (Hedy Lamarr-Louis Hayward-George Sanders). A strange siren and a strange plot make it unusual dramatic entertainment. . . . Warner Brothers' "Never Say Goodbye" (Errol Flynn-Eleanor Parker). Breezy comedy that will blow up a gale of chuckles. . . . Fair: Monogram's "Wife Wanted" (Kay Francis-Paul Cavanaugh-Robert Shayne). Class B Plus. . . . So-So: Monogram's "Dangerous Money" (Sidney Toler-Gloria Warren). Charlie Chan solves another crime but will win no new fans, thanks to a cumbersome plot. . . . Universal's "Gunman's Code" (Kirby Grant-Fuzzy Knight). Routine western stuff that will leave most fans very code, indeed. . . . Best Performance: Louis Hayward in "The Strange Woman."

Set workers at 20th Century-Fox tell me that when Linda Darnell reported for her first day's work in "Forever Amber," she found, in her portable dressing room, a huge bouquet of flowers and a "good luck" message from Peggy Cummins, the young English import whom she replaced in the title role. Being accustomed to seeing actresses in Miss Cummins' position spit venom rather than send flowers, I'm impressed. Since she has yet to be seen on the screen, there's no way of judging her acting ability, but be she good, bad or indifferent, I'll consider Miss Cummins, hereafter, a decidedly welcome addition to Hollywood, a town that needs good sportsmanship as much as it does good acting.

In today's mail is a letter from an irate movie-goer in Des Moines who wants to know why th' heck theater admissions are being maintained at such "outlandishly high" levels. I can't think of a better explanation than is offered by a break-down of the production cost of two 20th Century-Fox pictures. "Smokey," filmed in Technicolor a little over a year ago with Fred MacMurray and Anne Baxter, both high-salaried players, cost $1,300,000. "Bob, Son of Battle," made in Technicolor this year, on much the same location and by the same director, but without a single big money star, cost $1,900,000. Neither picture, if filmed before the war, would have been budgeted at more than $650,000. It's true that theater admissions are up, but they've risen far less than the prices of most commodities.

Orson Welles, in a recent magazine interview, stated: "Everything I do for the stage, the radio or the movies is done to make money and to keep my name in the public's mind so that it will listen to what I say politically." It's the second of Welles' motives that leaves me a bit discouraged. If he's correct—if the American public has reached the point where a man can expect to become a political oracle by winning success as an actor—then heaven help the American public!

OUR CHILDREN

THE NEWSPAPERS

All children, who can read, should read the newspapers and the important news of each day should be discussed in classrooms where there are children past the age of routined lessons, about the seventh year.

Reading should be done with discrimination. The mind of the reader should be critical, questioning, curious, not too ready to accept the word as fact. It is never good to read without noting, or thinking about, what is read. Reading can be a sleeping drug used to make the reader unconscious of passing time. That is about the last use to make of reading, and thus we ought to be particularly careful to teach children to think about what they read.

There is a newspaper in most every house. Father reads it first, then if mother has the time, she reads it, usually in the evening. The children snatch the sheet of comics, the sports sheet, and any pictured page that calls their interest. Many fathers and mothers let things go at that and it is not always just what might be done with a good newspaper.

A good newspaper is a tremendous influence in people's education. This includes children. Father and mother after reading the paper, might select some fine piece of writing, talk about it to the children, read it to them or let them read it, and so form their taste for what is best. The editorial pages contain some of the best writing of our time and not to direct children to it, is to make a grave mistake.

Go over the page of sports and talk that over; the dramatic columns where the critics review the plays and the movies; the literary columns where the critics tell the good and bad points of the important books; the editorial pages where the topics of the day are judged. This cannot all be covered in a night but one point can be discussed each session. If this were done, the children would become interested, informed and strengthened in intelligent understanding of life as it is today.

Make it a practice to talk about the pictures the children study so eagerly and pronounce decided opinions upon their values. Some of the comics are fine. Each of them presents some phase of human frailty, strength or just plain humanity and it will do a lot of good to go along with the children in this department of the paper.

Teach the children to read the newspapers with discrimination, with critical questioning mind. Help them find the best that is in the paper. But teach them to read it, for it is a tremendous educational force in their lives.

Helpful habits can be encouraged in a child, but they cannot be forced. Angelo Patri discusses how helpful habits can be stimulated in a leaflet devoted exclusively to this subject, "Helpful Habits," P-14.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Sunday School Lesson For Nov. 10
Scripture: Act 16:11-15; Philippians 2:5-11

By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

"Philippi," as a mere name, may mean little to the casual reader, but it was in that ancient city that the church was founded and Christianity was introduced into Europe, thence to spread to our western world.

Paul Crossed the sea from Asia to Europe in answer to the Macedonian call—the vision in the night in which he saw a man of Macedonia standing by his bedside, saying, "Come over into Macedonia and help us."

The vision may have been an expression of Paul's waking thoughts, for already he must have felt the urge to preach the Gospel to the ends of the earth.

The typical missionary knows no bound or boundaries. Wherever and whenever he appears the missionary is always reaching out, urged by the greatness of his message and mission and perhaps possessed of a sense of destiny which tells him that he is building for the future as well as for eternity.

Paul was an imperialist. The empire he sought to build was the empire of Christ.

In this empire the lives of men would be ruled by the constraining love of Christ; but it was to be an empire, nevertheless, world-wide in its sweep and ruling every destiny of man.

No earthly empire-builder was ever inspired with a greater vision than was Paul. And none ever served his purpose with greater energy, determination and courage than Paul brought to his quest of the empire of Christ.

How different was this empire of Christ from earthly empires! Earthly empires have been built by the strong and ruthless, while Paul, in building Christ's empire, remarked upon the way in which God had chosen the weak to confound the mighty.

As Christ began His empire among lowely fishermen and others from humble life, so the first Christian church in Europe began among a group of women meeting for prayer by a river outside the city of Philippi.

The notions, so unlike those popular today, that Paul had of the proper place and functions of woman did not prevent his supreme valuation of at least some women in the life of the church. Among the notable women who had much to do with the acceptance and spread of the Gospel was Lydia of Philippi.

A seller of purple, apparently a good business woman, Lydia made her chief and best business the service of her Lord. When she had been baptized she gave Paul the hospitality of a Christian home.

Blessed be Lydia!

CHURCH OF GOD IN ITS NEW HOME

The Church of God will conduct services for the first time in the new brick church at Georgia and Reed Streets in Monroe, Sunday, November 3. The pastor, Rev. Horace Taylor, states that the building is yet incomplete but is far enough along to be put into use. Services in the past have been conducted in the Lida Benton School auditorium. The public is invited to attend services in the new church today.

There will be Sunday School at 10 a.m. and at 11 a.m. the pastor will preach. The evening service is at 7 p.m.

On Friday evening there will be young people's meeting Friday night, and Wednesday night is prayer meeting night.

IN WASHINGTON

By Peter Edson
(NEA Washington Correspondent)

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The great, sea-going-sized irony of the present messed-up maritime situation is that the United States—the number one maritime power of the world—has only 20 passenger liners in operation.

In 1940 American shipping companies had a combined fleet of 154 passenger vessels. All were converted into troop-carriers. Fifty-four of them were lost in action, scrapped or sold.

Of the remaining 100 which were afloat a year ago, 59 were over 20 years old and may not be worth reconverting. Of the 41 less than 20 years old, only one has been reconverted. It's the America, largest liner ever built in this country. She's ready for her reconverted maiden voyage but was tied up by the recently ended maritime strike.

The only liners not tied up were the Matsonia, cleared for emergency food-carrying to Hawaii, and the Vulcania, which had an Italian crew. But when the Vulcania gets back from Italy, she will be given back to her former Italian owners and the United States passengership fleet will be cut that much further.

When the first maritime strike hit last summer, passenger-carrying ships flying the United States flag lined up like this:

Six ships on the Atlantic, four on runs to the Mediterranean, four on the Pacific, two to South America, one each to Hawaii, Puerto Rico, Bermuda.

At the end of the war the United States Maritime Commission fleet numbered nearly 5,000 ships of all types. Nearly 500 were troop transports, with the capacity to move half a million men at one time.

But troop transports stack their passengers in tiers, four or six bunks to the tier, and the life-saving equipment is mostly rafts. Coast guard rules won't permit ships to carry civilian passengers unless there is one lifeboat seat per passenger.

Under the Second War Powers Act, the president has been able to set these regulations aside. Two pre-war passenger liners, the Manhattan and the Ericsson, plus seven troop transports, were partially reconverted to bring back war brides and American war refugees. These nine ships are today the cream of the United States passenger liner service.

Even they don't offer any de luxe services. The cabins are more like dormitories. On the troop decks the bunks have been taken out and beds have been installed, but men are kept in compartments at one end of the ship, women at the other. The food is served cafeteria style.

The Second War Powers Act expires March 31, and if it is not renewed by Congress, these ships will no longer be able to carry passengers and will have to be reconverted a second time before they can go into regular commercial and tourist passenger service.

By next spring, however, it is hoped that the 18 passenger ships now in the process of completion or conversion will be ready for business. Fourteen of them will be for the Caribbean and South American trade, four for the Pacific. The Office of War Mobilization having issued stop orders on further construction of new passenger ships, this seems to be the total prospect for the next year or so.

When Americans want to go abroad, they'll have to rely on the airplane, go by foreign-flag ship, or rely on American-flag cargo ships, which have a maximum passenger-carrying capacity of 12 persons. Coast guard regulations limit the freighters to this number, unless they carry extra crew in the steward's department. Women and children are usually barred from such vessels unless a ship's doctor is signed on.

There are about 1,600 of these cargo vessels in service now. Half are operated by the Maritime Commission, half under charter to private owners. Nearly 1,300 have been laid up in the reserve fleet, and approximately as many more have been sold. The remaining 800 ships in the Maritime Commission fleet are awaiting assignment, undergoing repair or on miscellaneous service.

It is the terrible shortage of passenger ships which is making it impossible to handle the repatriation of American refugees in Europe, and to start the commercial and tourist trade going again.

Pitching Horseshoes
By Billy Rose

Some of my favorite jokes are about death. Some of my favorite people are those who make jokes about death. It's easy to kid mothers-in-law and fountain pens that write under water. But the final test of a sense of humor is the courage to leave them laughing when you say goodbye.

Billy Rose

Wilson Mizner blew darts at the world all his life and he didn't stop when the great cold was settling around his bones. When the preacher started to pray over him, he used one of his last dozen breaths to say, "I'll be seeing your Boss in a few minutes, Padre, and I'll put in a good word for you."

Then there's the other great Mizner death line. At the funeral of his brother, who had been a fireman, Bill looked into the grave and said, "He's going to his last fire."

I like the story of the dying storekeeper. The family was gathered around his bed. He was too weak to raise his head. "Martha," he called to his wife, "are you there?"

"Yes, dear," said his wife. "I'm here."

"My son, Donald, are you there?"

"I'm here, father," said Donald.

"Hattie, are you there?"

"Yes, father," whispered his daughter.

With his last bit of strength, the dying man propped himself up and demanded angrily, "Well, then, who the heck is minding the store?"

I also like the oldie about the English lord. (Every time you hear it he has a different name.) "I understand you buried your wife this morning," said a friend at his club.

"Had to, Dead, y'know," said his Lordship, and went to his chair and "Times."

A gag-bag piece like this isn't complete without a Scotch story. A Scotchman's wife was dying. He sat by her bedside until it was time to milk the cow. As he left the room he said, "If you feel yourself going, Bonnie, be sure and blow out the candle."

I don't know whether this one has been around, but I'll tell it anyway. A New Yorker went to Miami for his health. The sun apparently did him no good because he died there. When they brought the body back to New York, one of his friends peered into the coffin and said, "He looks wonderful."

"Why shouldn't he?" said another friend. "He just got back from Florida."

Riffling through an old joke book (Note to linotyper: I said riffling, not rifling) I came across these bits of Outward Bound wisdom: "It's no use worrying about life—you'll never get out of it alive." "Death and taxes are certain, but at least death doesn't get worse every time Congress meets."

I'm indebted to that great smile-file, "Try and Stop Me," for this one. A careful citizen named Johnson went to a friendly undertaker to price a coffin for himself. He was offered a fancy box with silver handles for $300. He said he'd think about it. He came back an hour later hollering mad. "Brannigan down the street, who never saw me before, offered me the same coffin for $50 less."

"Go ahead, buy it from Brannigan," said his friend. "But six months after they bury you, don't blame me if your behind is sticking out of the bottom."

One of the best ways I know to thumb your nose at the hooded party Eugene O'Neill calls "The Iceman" is to write your own epitaph. Dorothy Parker has written hers: "Excuse my dust." Owen Davis wants, "Here lies an author—as usual." Clive Brook, with true English politeness, prefers, "Excuse me for not rising." Eddie Cantor suggests this nifty in marble:

"Here in nature's arms I nestle,
Free at last from Georgie Jessel."

With a bow to my friends at the Stork Club, may I suggest one for myself:

"I finally did."

I'll probably get some nasty letters when this column appears. Some people think jokes about death are in bad taste. I'd suggest they save their stamps.

One of the things I like about the two-legged critter is, that he makes jokes about everything, including the Big Mystery. I'm banking on the world's funnybone rather than its grey matter to keep civilization from doing a Humpty-Dumpty. One of these days our statesmen will realize how ridiculous it is to atomize everybody, and we'll all live happy ever laughter.

BIBLE THOUGHTS

And thou shalt do that which is right and good in the sight of the Lord; that it may be well with thee, and that thou mayest go in and possess the good land which the Lord sware unto thy fathers.—Deuteronomy 6:18.

For blessings ever wait on virtuous deeds,
And though a late, a sure reward succeeds.

Chamber Head Says Bureau Should Accept Facilities At Selman Field

Continued effort to provide 75,000 square feet of office space in downtown Monroe to meet the requirements of the North Louisiana regional Veterans Administration is being made, it was announced yesterday by T. H. Scott, president of the Chamber of Commerce. The administration refused to consider utilizing the enormous amount of space available in the hundreds of buildings in Selman field, Scott stated, and insist on downtown facilities.

An effort was made to provide this space in the Heninger building, old Armory and the Monroe Hotel.

"A majority of the space in the Heninger building could have been made available, and an individual in Monroe agreed to purchase and build to required specifications the old Armory building," Mr. Scott said. "After negotiations with officials of the Milner Hotel Management company, which owns and operates the Monroe Hotel, we have finally received their decision that they are not interested in leasing to the V. A.

"There appears no likelihood that anyone will venture an investment of more than two million dollars, which would be required to erect an office building providing 75,000 square feet of space on a five year lease at a top rental figure of $1.50 per square foot per annum.

"By all rights Monroe should have this North Louisiana V. A. office. Shreveport has been designated as the location of a large, new V. A. hospital, and Alexandria already has a very large V. A. hospital to be enlarged soon. The V. A. office could, and should, accept at temporary office space the former WAC quarters and class rooms in Selman field, which would provide complete and much more adequate facilities than the office now has in the old Dodd college in Shreveport, which are admitted by the VA officials in the Dallas office as wholly inadequate."

URGES PASSAGE OF AMENDMENT NO. 6

"Every Louisianian who appreciates the sacrifices veterans of World War II made in preserving democracy and human decency will vote Tuesday in favor of state constitutional amendment No. 6," Otto E. Passman, department commander of American Veterans of World War II and congressman-elect from the Fifth District, predicted yesterday.

The amendment grants an additional homestead tax exemption of $3,000 to veterans of World War II and widows and children of members of the armed forces who met death in the service during the war. If favored by the voters, it becomes effective in 1947 for a period of five years.

Coupled with the $2,000 homestead exemption already in effect, it would give World War II veterans and widows and children of military personnel who died in the service or were killed in action during the war a total exemption of $5,000.

"The amendment affords Louisianans an opportunity to express their thanks concretely for a job well done to those who did most to assure victory," Mr. Passman said.

He reiterated that every assistance should be given veterans to reestablish themselves in civilian life without suffering an economic penalty for the years they spent in the service. "They don't want something for nothing, merely parity with those who were not called upon to interrupt their progress toward security to defend the nation," he said.

MISS DEARMAN ELECTED QUEEN

Delhi Freshman Will Be Feted At Northeast Junior College Homecoming

Ruling over this year's Homecoming festivities at Northeast Junior College will be Miss Pauline Dearman, freshman of Delhi, who was chosen queen by members of the football squad. She will reign over activities planned in honor of former students and alumni when they return to the local campus on Friday, November 8.

The queen will be crowned in a colorful ceremony as a pre-game feature when the Northeast Junior College Indians play Arkansas A. and M. College on Brown field at 8 p. m. Dr. Stephen A. Caldwell, supervisor of junior colleges, Louisiana State University, and dean of the University's junior division, will preside during the ceremony.

Six maids who will comprise the queen's court were elected by popular vote of the student body after twelve had been nominated. Honors go to the following: Misses Barbara Finlay, Harrisonburg sophomore; Libby Siegle, Monroe sophomore; Kiki Gatzoulas, Monroe freshman; Rose Marie West, Grayson sophomore; Joyce Toler, Monroe freshman, and Naomi Harris, Clarks freshman.

These with escorts chosen by them will march across the field to a platform prepared especially for the royal court.

Half-time game features will include special music by the band and special formations by the organization and the Indianettes in colorful costumes led by four majorettes. Drills and rehearsals are part of each day's program with Harry Lemert of the music faculty in charge.

Immediately following the game will be the dance in the gymnasium on the campus. The Student Council is sponsoring the event in honor of former students and alumni, according to Bob Powell, president of the organization.

Other activities on the day's schedule are a parade from the college through the business section of the city and an open house in the Student Center from 5 to 7 p. m.

Members of the faculty who are serving as chairmen on committees planning Homecoming comprise: Miss Hazel Mitchell, steering; Miss Ada Bess Hart, coronation; A. L. Tatum, dance; J. S. Tarbutton, lighting and loud speakers; Mrs. Harry Lemert, radio script; Mrs. Annie Lee West Stahl, publicity; L. L. Price, decorations; Miss Helen Hayes, open house; Harry Lemert, half-time; Lewis Slater, general reception; E. J. Foster, ushers; E. C. Whatley, traffic; H. H. IN MOVIELAND

By Bob Thomas

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 2.—(AP)—Supposing you are a movie star and your producer tells you, "okay, you get the part. But you'll have to take off 25 pounds." In that case, you would probably hustle to Terry Hunt's.

Terry runs Hollywood's most famous sweat shop. However, his is not the business of exploiting labor. He capitalizes on the tendency of some stars to eat and drink to an extent that it might mar their appearance on the screen. Actually the clientele of his health studio consists chiefly of doctors, lawyers and other professional men. But his most glamorous function is to keep Hollywood's most famous figures famous. Here's what would happen to you if you visited Terry's reducing rendezvous:

You locate the place on Lacienega boulevard, situated ironically in the town's swank restaurant row. Affable Terry greets you and hands you a towel and a pair of paper slippers. You disrobe and go to the rear of the place. There you are greeted by a group of white-clothed men who look at first like hospital attendants from "The Lost Week-end." But they are pleasant chaps, all thoroughly trained in physical therapy.

One takes you in hand and puts you through some exercises, then you are popped into the steam room. This is Finnish style, with water poured over hot rocks to create the heat. The result is comparable to the boiler of the S. S. Queen Elizabeth, and you perspire with the ease of Andy Devine after running the high hurdles. A lukewarm shower cools you off.

Then you are laid out in a sheet on a table and you get the rub, Swedish style (those Scandinavians really know how to live.) A gentle but firm masseur melts away care, fat and pain. Hardly a corpuscle is overlooked. The final touch is an ultra-violet ray treatment which may explain how some male stars keep that tanned look throughout the winter. By the time the whole thing is over you feel as though you could handle Doc Blanchard if he came around your end.

Although he makes his livelihood off the fat of the land, Terry doesn't much approve of these quick methods to health. He thinks people should stay in trim at all ages and all times, and the easiest means is by 15 minutes of calisthenics daily, plus any other exercise you can get.

Another thing he suggests is lying 15 minutes a day on a board with the feet raised higher than the head. That will take a couple of inches off the waistline in a few weeks, he says, by putting what he termed the "guts" back where they belong. You might try that, Fatty.

BOY SCOUT FILM WILL BE SHOWN

'Men Of Tomorrow' To Show At Paramount November 3, 4 And 5

"Men of Tomorrow" a new 30-minute technicolor film depicting the activities of Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, and Senior Scouts will be shown at the Paramount theater on November 3, 4 and 5, Floyd D. Huddleston, Scout executive said Saturday.

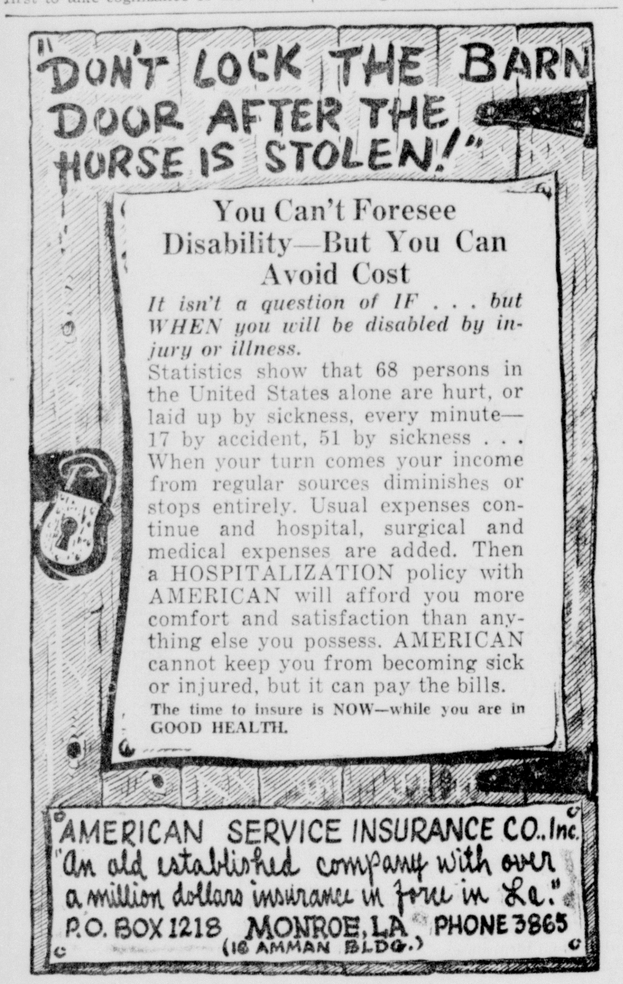

This picture is said to be one of the finest ever developed to show the opportunities in Scouting available to boys of today who will be the men of tomorrow.

"Men of Tomorrow" written and directed by Saul Elkins and produced by Warner Brothers in cooperation with the Boy Scouts of America, is a dramatic pictorial review of that organization's important role in the training of the nation's youth. Scout leaders have always been among the first to take cognizance of the American boys' instincts to be in a "gang," their own "gang" under their own leadership. They have capitalized on this inclination by using it to develop the admirable qualifies of leadership and responsibility in their charges, Mr. Huddleston said.

During the war, these outstanding characteristics won the honors of a grateful nation for many former Boy Scouts. The same interest and enthusiasm Colin P. Kelly showed for aviation when he was a Scout in Florida, won him his wings in the air corps. As a Scout in Hackettstown, N. J., John D. Bulkley never dreamed that one day he would be in command of the P. T. boat that sank two Jap cruisers, two armored landing boats and an aircraft tender. That same P. T. boat, with Bulkley at the helm, also evacuated General Douglas MacArthur from Corregidor.

The war heroes who were once Scouts are legion, Mr. Huddleston said, and their distinguished service in wartime reflects the benefits that were derived from the inspirational guidance that is shaping the future of the young Boy Scouts of today, the best of tomorrow's America, Mr. Huddleston concluded.

All Scouts, Cubs, parents and friends are urged to see "Men of Tomorrow" as well as boys who are of Cub and Scout age.

SEEKING VIDALIA BRIDGE VANDALS

Destruction Of 800 Feet Of Fencing Causes Action

FERRIDAY, La., Nov. 2.—(Special)—Mayor L. L. Cargile, of Vidalia, parish seat of Concordia parish, has assured Mayor William J. Byrne, chairman of the Natchez-Vidalia Bridge Commission, of Natchez, Miss., that he would assure the Natchez official of complete cooperation of the Concordia parish sheriff, Noah W. Cross, and Vidalia peace officers, in the recent destruction of some 800 feet of Mississippi river bridge fence in Vidalia on last Sunday morning.

Mayor Cargile, who previously had announced that "no official investigation would be made by his city" of the "vandals" who apparently used a bulldozer to destroy the 800 feet of steel protective fence on the Natchez-Vidalia bridge right-of-way, said Thursday that he was "very shocked at the methods used" to remove the fence on the south side of the approach to the Mississippi river bridge near Vidalia.

The Vidalia chief executive further stated that the methods constituted "a slap in the face" to him since he had been trying to work out a peaceful solution to complaints from property owners that the fence prevented expansion of Vidalia and rendered their property practically useless."

For over two months, Gerard Brandon, Natchez city attorney, and John Dale, Jr., city attorney of Vidalia have been negotiating on a plan which would be acceptable to both sides. On September 9, the bridge commission rejected a Vidalia petition that the bridge be completely removed.

Mayor Byrne, of Natchez, said that he was highly pleased with the results of his meeting with Natchez and Vidalia officials. "I appreciate," he said, "the cooperation of Mayor Cargile and Dr. Dale and their assurances that they would do everything possible to aid in the investigation." Asked if the city of Natchez would attempt remuneration for the destruction, he said that he would follow the advice of the city attorney. "The investigation comes first," he added. "We are out to catch the guilty party or parties."

STORE MANAGING COURSE SLATED

Will Be Offered At Northeast Junior College Night School

A retail store organization and management course will be offered at Northeast Junior College night school. The course is designed to bring practical guidance to those who are or who want to be engaged in retailing as a career. The problems that will be taken up are those of the small owner and the large store manager.

If one aspires to a position of responsibility in a large organization; or seeks the independence that ownership of a small store can bring; or are interested in the problems that face retail management this course does much to stimulate thinking and aid in formulating plans.

A list of the subjects to be discussed indicates that every function of retail store management is pointed toward one practical end, profit. These subjects are: "Your Future in Retailing," "Store Services," "Organization of the Store," "Planning, Budgeting and Making a Profit and Loss Budget," "Your Number One Job—Selling," "The Salesman and the Manager," "Retail Sales Systems," "Retail Advertising Plans," "Advertising That Gets Results," "Displays That Sell," and other subjects for lectures to make a total of eighteen for the course.

The store management class will meet one night per week for eighteen lectures. The first class meeting will be held at 7 p.m. Thursday, November 7, at Northeast Junior College. All G. I.'s and others will be encouraged to study each phase of store management in terms of their particular interest. For example, the study of advertising will include selections by the student of ads from current publications for criticism. Each student will work on ads in his own field. He will then lay out an "ad" of his own creation, suitable for his own store.

The teacher for this course is well qualified to give practical, authentic, and up-to-date information in the entire merchandising field. He is a graduate of Illinois University School of Business Administration and completed graduate work in Northwestern University School of Retailing. He has had a number of years' experience in merchandising, salesmanship, advertising, as well as executive positions in some of the best stores of the country.

For additional information call 4200 at Northeast Junior College and ask for Wilbur Lee Perkins, director of the night school.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—(AP)—Hit-and-run impressions from a world tour through fifty countries:

Japan—Feudalism democratized by the atom.

Korea—A house divided, an unwilling landlord to two armed tenants.

Manchuria—Chaos below zero.

China—Menu for some time: "Solly, no rice. Allee same plenty political chop suey."

Hong Kong—Her name sounds as a gong and her hills are beauty; an emerald reached for by two hands—but the white one holds it.

Java—The Dutch in Dutch in their paradise regained.

Bali—The land of forgotten delight, crumbled altars and legs that know no silken prison. A nylon salesman's hell.

Siam—Ditto for shoe salesmen.

French Indo China—A hot place to earn enough money to go back to Paris. They take hashish—I'll still take Hoboken.

Singapore—Sloe-eyes and sloe-gin, romance and the raffles hotel—they read well in Somerset Maugham. But you can get the same effect by making love to your secretary in a turkish bath.

Australia—A ribbon wit ha limey memory around an empire of sand.

Manila—A little brown man trying on his first long pants. But will the pineapples explode?

Burma—The neighbor boy who is mad because his stepmother won't let him wear long pants, too, and set up his own popstand.

India—"Uncle Tom's Cabin" played with a British accent and no ice.

Arabia—The harem has less Arabian night entertainment since hubby went prospecting for more oilfields that are relighting Aladdin's lamp.

Palestine—The chosen people choose, the Arabs refuse.

Egypt—The Sphinx finds its voice and fires an old policeman at the gateway to the Middle East—Tommy Atkins.

Greece—The birthplace of democracy takes back a dubious sceptor to keep out a foreign sickle.

Yugoslavia—American charity without clarity.

Hungary—Graustark entertains a Communist guest.

Italy—No Caesar, no bread, no circuses—and more new ruins than the Romans left.

Czechoslovakia—A political bridge with only one pier—and Russian traffic cops. Here dwell the prettiest girls in the world, but they always take mother with them.

Switzerland—A twenty-one jewel working example of what the United Nations could be.

Germany—Ach- ach! ach! ach! who wags the tail on a dachshund with four heads?

Denmark—Things are looking up in Hamlet's home. The melancholy Dane—He became melancholy from watching the Swedes make war profits while he fed occupying Nazis—is doing well again as Europe's butter-and-egg man.

Norway—The meat-short land of the midnight sun is weary of fish but still has fun.

Sweden—"We ain't mad at nobody. The customer is always right."

Belgium—Authority forgets a flying king; Europe's baby battlefield becomes its workshop again as prosperity returns.

Holland—Iron men on wooden shoes duplicate with musicle the miracle of Moses as they push away the sea.

France—A faded beauty wearing rhinestones remembers the diamonds she peddled on the black market.

Monte Carlo—Old ladies playing roulette in a 14-karat, plush-lined version of the corner poolroom.

England—Greatness in grime, a fighting people feeding on promises as they work to convert a threadbare present into a future of plenty.

Russia—"The world is too much with us."

United States—"Getting and spending we lay waste our powers."

The whole world—A great big apple with everybody looking for the worm.

GERMAN RENOUNCING U. S. CITIZENSHIP

HAMBURG, Nov. 2.—(AP)—Max Brauer, of New York, announced today that he was renouncing his American citizenship in order to share his fatherland's misery and help build a new Germany.

"It is now a foregone conclusion I will be elected mayor," said the 59-year-old Brauer, who has been nominated by the Social Democrats who won 85 percent of the votes in the recent Hamburg city election. The council meets in a few days to elect a mayor, assistant mayor and a president of the council.

German-born, Brauer was mayor of Altona, a suburb of Hamburg, when the Nazis came to power. He was thrown out of office by the Nazis. When he fled to France, the Nazi government attempted to extradite him in 1935 on a charge of bribery. The Franch government refused to extradite him.

He went to China and served as a political advisor to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek. Then he became a university lecturer in the United States, acquired United States citizenship, and became prominent in the American Federation of Labor.

He returned to Germany last June on a mission for the A. F. of L. Brauer's wife is in New York. His son is a captain in the United States army medical corps.

LOUISIANA FARMS MOUNT IN VALUE

Increase To Average Worth Of $46.85 Per Acre In 1945

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—(AP)—An average increase from $35.40 an acre in 1940 to $46.85 in 1945 for the value of Louisiana farm land is reported by the census bureau in preliminary figures from its 1945 farm census.

Total value of farm land and buildings in the state is placed at more than $470,327,000 in 1945 compared with more than $353,873,000 in 1940. In the same period implements and machines increased in value from $35,804,000 to $61,321,000. Livestock values were reported as $110,874,000 for 1945 compared with $60,610,000 in 1940.

The survey showed that approximately 25 per cent of Louisiana farms and plantations had electricity in 1945 compared with 11 per cent in 1940. In the latter year nearly half the farms had radios but only five per cent had telephones. There were automobiles on 29 per cent of the farms and motortrucks on 14 per cent in 1945.

A report on farm population characteristics showed that while the number of farm operators from 35 to 65 years of age remained almost constant from 1940 to 1945, war demands or other causes had reduced the number under 35 by more than a third. In the latter year there were only a third as many hired workers as in 1940 but the total cash wages paid for hired labor had more than doubled.

For the 1944 crop year the value of all farm products sold or used in Louisiana was reported as more than $217,000,000 compared with $114,000,000 for 1939. The 1944 totals included a value of $39,500,000 for products used by farm households and $177,500,000 for products sold.

A further breakdown of sales showed they included $135,000,000 for field crops, $5,600,000 for fruits and nuts, $577,000 for orchard products, $4,958,000 for vegetables, $12,215,000 for dairy products, $4,500,000 for poultry, $13,691,000 for livestock and $1,010,000 for forest products.

Full owners of farms in Louisiana in 1945 included 48,357 whites and 10,404 of other races. There were 26,263 white and 37,278 non-white tenants and 6,110 white and 19,111 non-white share croppers.

CALIFORNIA DRILLS $100,000 TEST

FERRIDAY, La., Nov. 2.—(Special)—The California Company which is engaged in drilling a well on the property of R. C. Lancaster just above the Concordia-Tensas parish line is making headway, operating day and night, and has attained a depth of more than 7,000 feet, but as yet they have not as yet struck oil sand.

Two large oil pools, made by building circular levees, several feet high, have been made as reservoirs for oil should, or rather, when a gusher is brought in. It is estimated that the investment in drilling this well represents an outlay of $100,000.00 Another well is also likewise in process of drilling on Fletcher Lake. The two wells, scarcely half a mile apart, brilliantly illuminated with electric lights, present a most beautiful spectacle all night long, to belated pedestrians and motorists, and while gas wells, also within close proximity to highways in this vicinity, also presents perhaps a good picture of the inferno.

CHECKER TOURNEY SCHEDULED TODAY

Checker players from nearly a dozen north Louisiana towns will compete today, beginning at 10 a.m., for the north Louisiana checker championship, now held by Simmie Whitman, of Choudrant.

Some of the strongest crossboard and mail players in the state will be included among the contestants. H. H. Joiner of West Monroe holds the state crossboard championship and also rates high in mail, having recently scored 24 points out of a possible 30 in a mail tournament in which he played against one player from Alabama, one from Tennessee and one from New Orleans, La. He thus went into Class A for another round of play in the district, which is composed of six states. Three former north Louisiana champions also are expected to complete here.

Those wishing to enter the tournament may do so by appearing at 10 o'clock this morning at the Monroe Recreation Center, 113 Catalpa Street, where the tourney will be played.

NEW MISSISSIPPI NEWSPAPER STARTS

COLUMBIA, Miss., Nov. 2.—(AP)—Mississippi's newest newspaper, the Sunday Mirror, made its public bow here tonight at a dinner attended by a number of Mississippi editors and other prominent citizens.

The newspaper is something unique for a small city—a tabloid-sized Sunday edition of the Columbian Progress, published by Lester Williams. The first edition had 56 pages, including eight pages of comics and 16 pages of society news.

D. C. McDavid is editor. Williams also publishes the Tylertown Times.

Former Governor Hugh L. White was toastmaster at the dinner. Speakers included three former editors of the Columbian Progress—S. K. Williams, secretary of the Columbia Chamber of Commerce; W. A. Seay, of Winona, president of the Mississippi Publishers' Association; and Matt Vernon, publisher of the New Iberia, La., Daily Iberian.

Other speakers included Charlie Harris, of Canton, treasurer of the Mississippi Press Association; J. Oliver Emmerich, publisher of the McComb Enterprise-Journal, who talked of Mississippi's recent progress; and Jimmie Arrington of Collins, columnist and humorist.

The toastmaster read congratulatory telegrams from Paul Wooton, president of the National Press Club, and others.

The publisher expressed hope that the new paper would help to expand Columbia's trade area and would serve as a community force.

L. S. U. FLYING PROGRAM BEGUN

Plan For Aeronautical Instruction Approved By Supervisors

BATON ROUGE, La., Nov. 2.—(AP)—A long-range program of aeronautical instruction—including flying, aeronautical engineering and airport administration—was launched today by Louisiana State University's board of supervisors.

The board, meeting on L. S. U.'s campus, adopted a flight training program drawn up by V. J. Bedell Co., New Orleans consulting engineers, appropriated $200,000 from L. S. U.'s current funds surplus and authorized Pres. W. B. Hatcher to ask the federal government for matching funds.

Ultimate cost of the airfield planned by L. S. U., to be located on its Ben Hur plantation three miles south of the campus, is estimated at $2,605,742. The $200,000 appropriated today, with federal aid, will allow flight training to begin, it was said.

Earlier in the day, L. S. U.'s supervisors accepted an invitation to affiliate the university with the council of the Oak Ridge institute of nuclear studies, engaged in advanced atomic research, and approved the issuance of $3,500,000 in bonds for two new dormitories for men and women students.

Decision to locate the airfield on Ben Hur plantation—using about 650 of its approximate 3,000 acres—was reached only over the opposition of several board members.

Homer Brinkley of Lake Charles protested that L. S. U.'s college of agriculture was now using part of the land needed for the airport and declared that taking it from that college would ruin several years' work in agricultural experiments.

He, John Y. Fauntleroy of New Orleans, who asked that decision be postponed until the board's Dec. 7 meeting for further study, and Chairman James M. McLemore of Alexandria voted against the proposal.

Principal supporters of the proposal were E. M. Lanier of Plaquemine, who presented the engineers' report, declaring that the airfield is badly needed in connection with L. S. U.'s air R. O. T. C. program, and Roland B. Howell of Baton Rouge, who outlined aviation developments in the New Orleans area and said that training by L. S. U. in all phases of aviation would fit in with that development.

Figures presented in the Bedell report showed development of L. S. U.'s airport, with six satellite fields in east and west Baton Rouge, Iberville and Ascension parishes, to cost $2,605,742, to be spent in three successive stages: $670,478, $1,136,022 and $799,242.

The report said that such an air school will ultimately accommodate 2,200 students a year, with training being given in commercial, air mail and private flying and experimental operations, both day and night.

It will start with 65-horsepower single-engine trainers, adding twin-engine planes in the last two stages, the report stated.

Dean Leo J. Lassalle of L. S. U.'s college of engineering told members that costs of the initial stage could be cut by about $100,000 by various economies.

Fauntleroy's opposition to the proposal and his motion to delay action brought criticism upon him from both Howell and Lanier, both of whom expressed "resentment over your continued implication that no one on the board knows anything but yourself," and that the board's airport committee "is acting without making an investigation and holding hearings."

L. S. U.'s membership in the Oak Ridge nuclear institute will make it one of two universities in the deep South participating, Lanier reported. The university will contribute $5,000 to the institute.

Two new dormitories to be built with the $3,500,000 bond issue approved today, plus $1,119,000 now on hand, will house 1,000 men and 500 women students. Board members said that it will be necessary to delay their construction until building conditions improve.

The board today also:

Approved a plan for L. S. U. law school to aid Southern University here in establishing a law school for Negroes.

Heard Dr. Hatcher report that a "no right or cause for action" answer has been filed in court in connection with an injunction asked by Red River farmers on establishment of an agricultural experiment station near Shreveport. Hearing in the case has been set here for Nov. 25.

Heard Troy H. Middleton, L. S. U. comptroller, report that a request for surplus army buildings for 60 classrooms, 30 offices, a gymnasium and a cafeteria had been approved by the U. S. department of education.

Approved transfer of $100,000 from surplus funds for the vocational education school at Alexandria.

Accepted an offer by the state of $600,000 cash for 112 acres of land adjoining the capitol grounds here on the east, proceeds to be used for an L. S. U. agronomy building.

Took no action on a proposal to complete L. S. U.'s football stadium as a bowl, including apartments for veterans and their families, because of "present lack of funds."

he was asserted toward the end of the war by American troops in Saxony and was taken to an internment camp near Ludwigsburg.

Von Burgsdorf said he escaped and went to his so-called secret rendezvous with Bormann, supposedly the leader of the practically inactive werewolf movement in occupied Germany.

After receiving his "promotion," the German said he hid in Geschwend. He said he recently went on a secret trip to the Russian zone, returning to the village three weeks ago.

When he was arrested in Geschwend, the red-haired, 29-year-old SS man was in uniform with full insignia.

The army's agents refused to confirm or deny that von Burgsdorf was in their Stuttgart jail and there was no way of telling whether the army placed any credence in von Burgsdorf's story.

000,000 for Higgins, Inc., of New Orleans.

Lustron proposes to build 30,000 houses of porcelain steel next year, in addition to roofs, bathroom and kitchen fittings for 20,000 other prefabs. Higgins intends to build 10,000 steel-and-concrete houses, Reliance 31,000 steel dwellings.

"A lot of other fundamental industries—like shipping and aviation—get federal aid, and without it they would not be the fundamental industries they are." Wyatt remarked.

Congress clearly intended that the government should take risks in stimulating the housing campaign, he said, and he forecast that his emergency powers would make it unnecessary to hand the dispute over to the White House for settlement. He indicated he is keeping Reconversion Director John R. Steelman posted on the inter-agency conflict, and would hold further meetings with RFC.

Other officials reported that George E. Allen, a director of the RFC, had stated that the legality of the loans was under study and had privately conceded that Wyatt's powers are "pretty sweeping."

The monthly report indicated plainly that the year's goal for new homes started would be missed by 100,000 or more. Mainly to blame is the failure of pre-fabricators to lift production above a disappointing 3,500 monthly, owing to materials shortages.

The dollar value of actual construction activity on building sites totaled $585,000,000 in September—the highest, said Wyatt, "for any single month since the boom years of the twenties." The dollar value of privately financed building was down slightly from August, but government activity—in moving and re-erecting surplus war housing—more than made up the difference.

The improvement in completions included a gain of 18 per cent over August in new, permanent dwellings. The others were re-used war housing units, trailers, and "conversions"—remodeling jobs on old houses to accommodate more families.

A general brightening in the outlook for building materials was shown, but shortages persist. Lumber production in August was 3,450,000,000 board feet, the biggest since 1929. The commerce department index of 16 basic building materials showed an 89 per cent gain since the start of the year.

September showed increased production from August for plywood, radiators, bathtubs, soil pipe and furnaces. Improved daily rates of production were chalked up in sinks, toilets, bricks, gypsum board and lath.

A box-score of the housing drive for the nine months through September showed:

Dwelling units started: New permanents, 522,400; temporary, re-used war housing, 192,200; conversions, 66,800; trailers, 27,300; total, 808,700.

Dwelling units completed: New permanents, 286,200; temporary, re-used war housing, 52,100; conversions, 64,600; trailers, 27,300; total, 430,200.

and gas, and that further hikes in wages and prices will speed this trend. "It is time," the association declared, "that the miners be told that their peerless leader, in his ruthless pursuit of personal power and his efforts to outdistance his rivals, is digging the grave of his own followers.

"His 'victory'—still higher wages for less work—will destroy the jobs for tens of thousands of them by pricing out of the market the coal that must be sold if they are to have employment in digging it.

"This already is happening, and what Mr. Lewis is now striving for will simply make bad matters worse."

The statement added the government could "bow to Mr. Lewis" but it "cannot compel users of coal to stick to coal."

The association noted that government figures show miners' average weekly earnings at $62.37 in August, higher than the average reported for any other industry.

"No matter whether the miners' earnings are viewed on an hourly basis or a weekly basis," the association said, "it is manifest that the cost of living will have to climb a lot higher before it cancels out the increases in wages and earnings which the coal miners have already obtained."

Lewis and the government, the operators said, "are dealing with a situation that imperils the whole wage and price structure of our national economy."

There was no reply from Lewis.

Meanwhile the people's lobby called on the leaders of both political parties to urge President Truman to reassemble congress to nationalize the coal industry. Benjamin C. Marsh, the lobby's secretary, said it has been "a sick, wasteful industry for many decades."

ARKANSAS A. AND M. NEXT ON N. J. C. SLATE

BATTERED INDIANS FACE MULERIDERS ON GRIDIRON HERE

Redskins To Celebrate Homecoming With Little Prospect Of Victory

A battered but still hopeful Northeast Junior College football team, dazed by five consecutive defeats for the longest streak of setbacks suffered by the Indians in fourteen years, came limping home from their disastrous Friday night stand at Lake Charles to make ready for the Arkansas A. and M. Muleriders who clash with the Redskins here Friday night.

It will be homecoming for N. J. C. and it already looks like a dreary day for the Tribesmen as far as victory is concerned, but Coach James L. Malone hasn't lost a homecoming game that he can remember and has hopes of being able to spring a surprise on the Muleriders who will be coming here fully confident that they can shove the crippled Redskins about as freely as Kilgore, Ole Miss Bees, Copiah-Lincoln, and McNeese.

N. J. C. winds up its disastrous season within two weeks, meeting the Arkansas Tech eleven in its final scrap on November 21 in a game that is being sponsored by the Monroe Knights of Columbus who are giving away a Ford station wagon on that day.

Coach Malone last night bemoaned the fate of his most promising team at the beginning of the season, but which has turned up with the "most cripples" he has ever had on any team, sapping the strength of his aggregation. But the Indian mentor remains confident.

The Muleriders, coached by Elmer Smith, former line coach and aid to Curtis Parker at Centenary College, is boasting the biggest team Arkansas A. and M. has ever been able to weld together. The line alone averages 210 pounds per man from end to end, according to reports, and will probably be the biggest forward wall the Tribe has been called upon to face this season.

Coach Smith's charges have been beaten only once, losing their season opener to John McNeese, 14 to 0, and McNeese has since beaten N. J. C. twice, trimming the Redskins, 16 to 0, here a couple of weeks ago, and then polishing off the Tribesmen, 31 to 6, at Lake Charles Friday night.

The Arkansas A. and M.-N. J. C., grid clash will be the first between the two schools although they have previously met in basketball rivalry. The Friday game is the first of four signed annually to run through 1949.

Hard work, and plenty of it, is on tap for the Redskins this week, as Malone gets them ready for the invaders.

Homecoming plans call for special programs for the crowning of the queen, Indianettes, band, and pep squad.

A parade through the city, open house at the Student Center from 5 until 7 p. m., and a dance in the college gymnasium following the game are among the homecoming sidelights.

Miss Pauline Dearman, Delhi freshman, will reign as queen and will be crowned in a colorful ceremony preceding the game at Brown Field.

Six maids who will accompany Queen Pauline were announced as Misses Barbara Finlay, Harrisonburg sophomore; Libby Siegle, Monroe sophomore; Kiki Gatzoulas, Monroe freshman; Rose Marie West, Grayson sophomore; Joyce Toler, Monroe freshman; and Naomi Harris, Clarks freshman.

PROUD OF FANS

Coach James L. Malone, whose Indians are going through the worst losing streak of any Indian eleven since 1932 when J. Paul Kemerer's Redskins dropped nine in a row without tasting victory, last night extended his appreciation to N. J. C. fans for "sticking" with his club.

"I appreciate the way our loyal followers have stuck with the ball club this year," Malone declared. "Although we have been on the losing side, we have had the greatest following of any team I have coached during my career here.

"And I can assure our fans that we have our two hardest football games yet to be played of our disastrous season. Fortunately both games will be played in Monroe."

SELLOUT CROWD TO SEE TIDE, BENGALS BATTLE SATURDAY

BATON ROUGE, La., Nov. 2.—(Special)—A game destined to have a definite bearing on the outcome of the 1946 Southeastern Conference football championship will be played here next Saturday afternoon when Louisiana State and Alabama renew a 51-year old rivalry in one of the nation's top tilts of the season.

The Tiger-Tide meeting, for more than two weeks a complete sellout, will be witnessed by more than 45,000 fans expected to be on hand for the 2:15 p. m. kickoff, the first daylight contest at home for the Moore-mentored machine this year.

Beginning the series in 1894, Alabama holds a one-sided edge in 18 games with 12 victories against three losses, with three tilts resulting in tie scores. The Tide also leads by a wide margin in total points scored, amassing 340 against 86 for the Tigers. Last season the Thomas-tutored Tide executed a vaunted air attack to score a 26-7 victory over the Tigers.

Though unable to boast an undefeated season, the 1946 Rose Bowl champions still remain the most potent unit in the Southeastern circuit. Spearheaded by Backfield stars Harry Gilmer, Lowell Tew, and Norman Hodges, and supported by a galaxy of line luminaries in Center Vaughan Mancha, Tackle Tom Whitley, and Ends Ted Cook and Jim Cain, the Crimson Tide is possessed with the most formidable and talented material in the Conference, and is coached by Frank Thomas, one of the shrewdest mentors in the country.

Louisiana State, on the other hand, has furthered the pre-season expectations of even the closest Tiger followers by entering the Alabama fray with one of the best records in the Conference this year. Prior to the opening debacle with Rice Institute, the Bayou Bengals were selected to finish behind Alabama, Georgia, and Tennessee in loop standing, but to date have been pressing their esteemed adversaries to a point where a win over Alabama would place them in reigning range of the S. E. C. crown.

OLDTIMERS

BATON ROUGE, La.—The two coaches with longest tenure in the Southeastern Conference will meet here Saturday when Frank Thomas of Alabama, "Dean" of the loop with 15 consecutive seasons at the Capstone, and Bernie Moore, head man of Louisiana State for 12 years, oppose each other in one of the nation's "best bets" of the day.

ARMY FINDS WEST VIRGINIA RUGGED, BUT WINS, 19 TO 0

Mountaineers Force Cadets To Rely On Blanchard, Davis To Save Game

By Whitney Martin

WEST POINT, N. Y., Nov. 2.—(AP)—The Army football team made it No. 25 today. Not a dazzling, scintillating 25th straight victory, but the 19 to 0 triumph over West Virginia was convincing enough and the opposition was spirited enough to keep the capacity crowd of 25,500 in Michie Stadium thoroughly interested, and just the thing to sharpen the Cadets for their classic with Notre Dame next week.

It was the final home appearance of Glenn Davis and Doc Blanchard, famed touchdown twins, and seven other Army starters, and, as might be expected with the thoughts turned ahead a week, it was far from the best performance.

The Cadets on the whole played in flashes, sputtering and wheezing and fumbling their way along and then bursting into an offensive roar like a balky engine finally getting the spark.

Blanchard scored one touchdown on a 46-yard dash through left tackle in the second period, and Davis contributed one by taking a seven-yard toss from Arnold Tucker in a corner of the end zone in the third. Otherwise their often brilliant offensive maneuvers failed to pay off, with Blanchard guilty of inopportune fumbles on occasion. Hank Foldberg scored the first touchdown in the first period, taking an eight-yard pass from Tucker in the end zone.

Army apparently started under the theory that it would try to win without Blanchard or Davis. They were in the lineup, but the ball carrying chores were left to Fuson the first time the Cadets got the ball.

That didn't work. Army quickly found the Mountaineers apparently had never heard of the might of Earl Blaik's Black Knights. They asked no quarter and gave none. And the next time the Cadets got the ball they put Blanchard and Davis to work.

Taking a punt on his 40, Davis skipped back 20 years to launch the drive. He then added ten more around his right end, and Blanchard bulled his way through the middle for 22 more to put the ball on the Mountaineer eight, from where Tucker flipped to Foldberg for the counter.

The rousing West Virginia offense permitted the Mountaineers to keep possession of the ball much of the first period and kept the Army offense at a waiting stage. The West Virginians, in fact, took the play away from the Cadets and with a vivid passing offense carried the ball to the Army 11. A penalty set them back five yards, and Davis intercepted a pass on the goal line to check the threat as the period ended.

Still deep in their own territory early in the second period, Army finally awakened. Starting on their own one, the Cadets had a touchdown in three plays. Tucker passed to Davis on the West Virginia 48, Davis picked up six more, and then Blanchard went the rest of the way.

After this sudden outbreak of enthusiasm the Cadets squatted back on their haunches again, and did little the rest of the period except halt a Mountaineer threat on the Army 14, where George Freese, who was the spark of his team's attack, had intercepted one of Tucker's passes.

The final Army touchdown climaxed a 46-yard march. Blanchard and Elwyn Rowan had alternated in carrying the ball to the seven, where Tucker made his payoff toss to Davis.

Blanchard and Davis left the field at the end of the third quarter and never reappeared, their exodus being so quiet and unobtrusive that the crowd probably never realized they had seen two of the greatest backs in Army history play on Michie field for the last time.

Army definitely was not "up" for this game, but Blaik had enough confidence in his charges to turn them over to Assistant Coaches Andy Gustafson and Col. Harvey Jablonsky for the day while he and the remainder of the coaching staff watched Notre Dame against Navy.

TIE GAME

ALEXANDRIA, La., Nov. 2.—(AP)—Menard Memorial of Alexandria and Cathedral High School of Lafayette battled to a scoreless tie on the Bolton football field here last night in a game which saw a number of scoring threats by both sides nullified by penalties and alert defenses.

GRAYSON'S SCOREBOARD

By Harry Grayson

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—(NEA)—Steve Owen tells Army's opponents how to stop Doc Blanchard and Glenn Davis.

"Let 'em graduate," says the coach of the New York football Giants.

Doc Blanchard

West Point easily could have beaten Columbia, 100-0, yet Red Blaik seemed alarmed when the Lions marched 70 yards for a touchdown against the second-string cadets, leaving them trailing by only four touchdowns late in the third period.

Anyway, back in went Mr. Inside and Mr. Outside.

Columbia's kick-off bounced along the lawn, and Blanchard snatched the ball out of Davis' hands taking it on the long hop of his eight. It was psychological warfare as the Bishopville Bomber went straight down the middle. No Lion dared stick his head in that lion's mouth. It was one of the finest "After you, Alphonse" acts ever seen on a college field. No one as much as made a pass at the 205 pounds of flying fullback, who was merely sight-seeing by the time he struck mid-field.

"I was hoping that no one would get in his way," said assistant coach Buff Donelli of Morningside Heights. "There was no sense in anybody getting killed."

On one occasion, cutting directly across the field in eluding defenders, Junior Davis cleaned off the entire Columbia bench.

Many a player has won New York's critical clientele with a series of remarkable plays, but few have done it with a single maneuver, as did Herman Wedemeyer of Saint Mary's against Fordham at the Polo Grounds.

Hopelessly backed against their goal line, the Rams quick-kicked, catching the Gaels, including Wottaman Wedemeyer, flat-footed.

Wedemeyer dashed back for the ball, turned to see 11 Rose Hillers rumbling down upon him. When the first would-be tackler was a few yards away, Wedemeyer promptly booted the ball right smack to where it came from, deep in Fordham territory. The crowd roared with delight as the 11 Rams quickly did a turn-about back to their own goalline.

A moment later, still eager to get rid of the ball, Fordham threw a desperate pass which Saint Mary's intercepted and converted into a touchdown. Wedemeyer passed to three other touchdowns.

Fordham, returning to football, isn't much, but Wedemeyer is, and Saint Mary's, while without much power, has a lot of finesse.

You never would have suspected so many Hawaiians lived in New York. Before the game was finished they were lined behind the Gaels' bench, screeching their admiration to Wedemeyer in lingo peculiar to the Islands, which few understood. But Hula-Hipped Herman understood all right, and grinned his response.

It was a great day for Hawaii and its Waikiki Wonder.

Alabama did everything right against Tennessee but score. The Tide made 14 first downs to nine, gained 226 yards to 125, engineered five sustained marches to three, threatened three times in the last period, when Harry Gilmer completed 12 of 21 passes, with consecutive strings of five and four, for 96 yards.

But 'Bama was thrice held within the 10-yard line, which is where you either have a football team or haven't.

Tennessee has now beaten Georgia Tech, Duke and Alabama, so the worst is behind Brig. Gen. Robert Reese Neyland in what already is a triumphal return to the football wars—and then some.

IRON MAN

BATON ROUGE, La.—When Gene "Red" Knight, Louisiana State's All-Southeastern Conference fullback, failed to dress out for a practice session last week, it marked the first time in four years that the sorrel-topped gladiator was injured seriously enough to not take part in midweek activity.

END-ED

BATON ROUGE, La.—New president of Louisiana State's Freshman class is Joe Moreland, an end on the Tiger football team, who defeated in the runoff Joe Leach, a teammate, and also an end.

ATHENS, Ga., Nov. 2.—(AP)—Charlie Trippi, running, plunging and passing like a man possessed, steered Georgia's unbeaten Bulldogs through a battling Alabama Crimson Tide for a 14-0 victory today.

A capacity crowd of 50,000 saw the ever dangerous Trippi, bothered to some extent by "charley-horses" all season, hit his full stride while Georgia stopped the famous passing arm of Harry Gilmer. The Bulldogs batted down six of Gilmer's heaves and intercepted the other two he tossed.

A drizzling rain which fell before the game and through most of the second half, held the offensive games of the two arch rivals pretty well in check.

Georgia led in first downs, 12 to 9, and Alabama was ahead in net yards rushing, 163 to 139. The Bulldogs completed seven of 14 passes for 110 yards, none in the second half, while the Tide had no completions in nine attempts.

In the first half, the Bulldogs threatened continuously and held a 14-0 lead at intermission. The first score came when Dick McPhee intercepted Gilmer's initial pass after six minutes of play. McPhee lateralled to John Donaldson, who hauled out down the sideline for 44 yards before stepping out on the Alabama 13.

On fourth down, Trippi passed nine yards to Dan Edwards in the end zone, who made a diving catch after Hal Self had batted it skyward attempting to knock it down.

With one minute of the half remaining, Trippi broke around end 46 yards for a score, topping off a 79-yard drive. A 33-yard pass, Trippi to John Rauch, preceded the scoring run. Joe Tereshinski, who went up for the ball with Rauch, tackled his teammate as they came down.

The Tide, last team to defeat the Bulldogs, winning by 28-14 last season, was never a serious threat and never got beyond Georgia's 23-yard line. A "half-the-distance" penalty put Alabama on the Bulldog 29 early in the third period but the drive was stopped at the 23. In the first period, Alabama went to the Georgia 25 after a 15-yard penalty but the Bulldogs held.

Gilmer, though stymied as a passer, led his teams ground gaining with 55 yards in 12 tries, and almost broke away several times while returning punts. Trippi netted 98 yards in 16 tries to account for all of Georgia's rushing except 41 yards. He completed five of eleven passes for 109 yards, one short of the total Georgia gained through the air.

Neither team threatened seriously in the second half, the wet footing reducing the running attacks to line plunges.

PRO GRID BATTLE IN CRUCIAL STAGE

National Lead In Danger Of Changing Today; All-America Quiet

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—(AP)—The lead in both divisions of the National Football League will be at stake tomorrow when the New York Giants, Eastern pace-setters, invade Philadelphia and the Green Bay Packers move in against the Chicago Bears, front-runners in the western half of the professional circuit.

If Philadelphia's Eagles whip the Giants, they can take over the Eastern lead, but only if the Washington Redskins fail to get past the Pittsburgh Steelers in Pittsburgh. A Washington victory and a New York defeat would return the Redskins to the top spot.

The Packers, beaten twice in five starts, could move into the western lead by beating the Bears, whose record includes three wins, a loss and a tie. The Giants, with four victories and one defeat, own the best record in the league. Washington has won three, lost one and tied one, while Philadelphia has won three and lost two.

In other National League games tomorrow the Los Angeles Rams, fourth-place team in the west, visit Detroit, whose Lions are in the western cellar, and the third-place Chicago Cardinals invade Boston, last-place team in the east, for the only game involving clubs of both divisions.

Neither leader is in danger in the All-America Conference, which scatters its games through the week-end.

The Brooklyn Dodgers and Chicago Rockets, both operating under new coaches, were scheduled for a game in Chicago last night but it was postponed in mid-afternoon because of rain.

The San Francisco 49ers, who knocked the Cleveland Browns out of the unbeaten class last Sunday to leave both professional leagues without a single undefeated team, entertain the Buffalo Bisons today.

The Bisons have been doing some upsetting of their own, stopping the Rockets last week and the 49ers two weeks ago.

The Browns, still well out in front in the western division, will be at Los Angeles for a battle with the Dons tomorrow while the New York Yankees, firmly entrenched in the eastern lead, entertain the Miami Seahawks.

TAG TEAM BRAWL ON MAT PROGRAM HERE WEDNESDAY

Hickson And Harrell To Match Talents Against Segura And Aguaya

A tag team scramble featuring Billy Hickson, Henry Harrell, Bobby Segura, and Francisco Aguaya will be offered the mat fans of the Twin Cities here Wednesday night at Gus Kallio's Arena, it was announced last night by Promoter Kallio.

Hickson and Harrell, a pair of Tennesseans from Knoxville and Memphis respectively, will be displaying their talents against a pair of Mexicans, Segura is from Monterey, Mex., and Aguaya hails from Mexico City.

All four participated in a six-man battle royal here last week with Aguaya coming out on top, and the Mexicans had desired to have another battle royal, Kallio reported. But the local promoter declared he had had several requests for another tag brawl and had decided to offer such a match while he had "some good, speedy battlers available."

Bill Barney, West Monroe automobile mechanic, who won the north Louisiana light heavyweight championship about five years ago before entering military service, has been signed to referee the tag show, and on the same program Barney will surrender his amateur belt which is to be made available to any other amateur wrestlers of this area who want to win it.

Promoter Kallio last night said that Barney no longer will work as an amateur wrestler and that for that reason the young West Monroe man will give up his belt which will be offered contenders in an amateur tournament already being up by Kallio.

"Any man or boy of this area will have a chance to be the champion in the light-heavy class. The only thing they have to do is just get into the tournament already being cooked up by Kallio.

Such a tournament was sponsored by Kallio when he was presenting his shows at the Ouachita Valley Fair Grounds in West Monroe a few years ago, and Barney won in the finals from Robin Green, West Monroe.

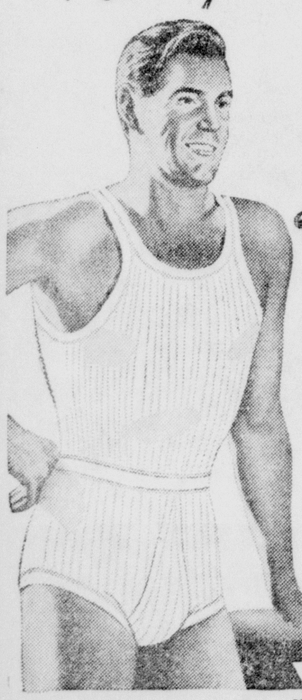

Kallio plans to have one or two amateur matches each Wednesday evening before his program starts, Contenders are requested to file application for tournament participation with Kallio.

"Winning the amateur belt was one of the best things that ever happened to me," Barney told Kallio. "I learned a lot during that tournament and the experience came in mighty handy while I was in service." Barney entered the navy shortly after winning the crown and served many months in the South Pacific.

Tigers Come From Behind With Two Touchdowns In Last Period

BATON ROUGE, La., Nov. 2.—(AP)—An alert and speedy Mississippi University eleven forced the powerful Louisiana State Tigers to go the limit tonight to win 34 to 21 before an estimated 25,000.

There were some punches passed by members of the opposing squads after the game ended but cooler heads prevailed and respective squads were ushered off the field as partisans of both sides swarmed all over the gridiron.

It was a heart-breaking loss for the inspired Mississippians who played the entire game unaware that their governor, Thomas L. Bailey, had died suddenly at the executive mansion in Jackson. News of Bailey's death was announced over the public address system after the final whistle.

Ole Miss forced the highly-favored Tigers to dig way down in their bag of tricks and to take to the air for most of their larger gains. At the same time the Tiger line was holding its own against the hard-rushing Mississippi backfield.

Charley Conerly, fast-moving left halfback, and Captain Ray Poole, Ole Miss left end, sparked the Mississippi attack, Conerly scoring twice and Poole going over for a touchdown and kicking three extra points.

All Louisiana State scores were made by substitute players Al Heroman, Jim Cason, Willard Landry and Ray Bullock.

Mississippi scored first and managed to keep the vaunted Tigers off balance for most of the first half and into the third period.

However, there was too much power on the side of the Louisianans and in the final period the less numerous Ole Miss aggregation was unable to stem the Tiger attack.

Conerly climaxed a 60-yard drive in the first period to score over center and in the next quarter went through the same position for another touchdown. L. S. U. came back strong, however, and drove 31 yards for a touchdown, Cason passing 25 yards for the touchdown. Poole kicked two extra points for Mississippi and Holly Heard added one for Louisiana State and Mississippi led 14 to 7 at the intermission.

In the third period the Tigers scored twice and Mississippi once. Y. A. Tittle passed to Cason for 24 yards for the first L. S. U. score and soon afterwards Ole Miss marched to the L. S. U. 10 where Conerly passed to Poole for the touchdown. Heard added an extra point for the Tigers and Poole placekicked once more for Mississippi. Heard's second attempt at conversion was blocked and Mississippi led 21 to 20 at the end of the third period.

It was in the final period, that the L. S. U. power began to tell. The mighty Tigers scored two touchdowns in the last stanza, Bullock and Jeff Burkett carrying the ball over the visitors goal line.

Tittle's heave from Ole Miss' 29-yard line to Ray Bullock was good for 24 yards and a touchdown. Heard's placement was good and L. S. U. went into the lead 27 to 21.

In the period marked by penalties and fumbles, the Bengals backed Ole Miss deep in its own territory. A pass by Conerly was intercepted on the Ole Miss 30 by Jeff Burkett, who galloped over for a touchdown. The extra point was kicked by Heard, bringing the score to Ole Miss 21, L. S. U. 34.

CHOCTAWS' LONG RUNS NUDGE STETSON, 13 TO 0

CLINTON, Miss., Nov. 2.—(AP)—Long drives were largely responsible for Mississippi College's 13 to 0 victory over Stetson University of Deland, Fla., here tonight.

Mississippi College scored first in the third period on an 82-yard run by Howard Green. He started off tackle and ran through secondary defense to a touchdown. Albert Gore converted from placement.

In the fourth period a 75-yard drive was climaxed by 40-yard pass play from Wendell Webb to Ray Fulton, who scored. The kick for extra point was blocked.

Stetson outplayed Mississippi College in the first half, but neither team penetrated the opponent's 20-yard line.

S. L. I. SUCCUMBS TO TECH PASSES BY 34-6 MARGIN

Ruston Bulldogs Keep L. I. C. Record Clean With Lafayette Win

LAFAYETTE, La., Nov. 2.—(AP)—The Louisiana Tech Bulldogs passed their way to a 34 to 6 victory over Southwestern Louisiana Institute here today, thoroughly spoiling the afternoon for a sellout homecoming crowd of 10,000.

A blocked kick set the stage for the first Tech touchdown, but passes either scored or set up the others. S. L. I. drove 40 yards to its lone touchdown.

Substitute backs did all the scoring in the game. Bob Dalrymple started it by grabbing a six yard pass from Pearce Didier in the opening period for Tech's first six-pointer. In the next quarter Dick Pate pushed six inches for S. L. I.'s score after a 40-yard drive.

Then the Bulldogs began smothering the home team under passes. Hollie Jones tossed a 22-yard payoff to Ace Jones, and a 15-yarder to Joe Michaels. The latter pass was intended for another receiver, but was partially blocked by a defender and Michaels retried in the end zone six inches off the ground.

Hollis Jones' short plunge and John Williamson's six-yard left end run brought out the other Tech scores. Michaels placekicked four extra points out of five attempts.

AMATEUR BOXERS WILL SHOW AGAIN HERE TOMORROW

Card Of Eight Bouts Or More To Be Presented At I. C. Arena

The Illinois Central Service Club's amateur boxers, idle last week as far as putting on a show was concerned, appear again here tomorrow night on an eight-bout card at the I. C. club's arena on DeSiard street, it was announced last night by Matchmaker Mickey Head.

Six battles are already definitely arranged, it was announced, and at least two and maybe three will be added by Monday morning.

The fights, which have been drawing good crowds for the first two programs presented under the auspices of the I. C. Service Club, will begin at 8 p. m., tomorrow.

Bobby Rawls, the classy little Bastrop 80-pounder who scored victories in his first two starts here, will be back for an engagement with Monroe's Dwight Carr.

Cordell Houston, Monroe, and Pete Tigwell, Bastrop, who recently fought to a draw in a battle of 112-pounders have been rematched to settle their ring dispute.

Kelton Howard, Farmerville, slated to make his debut on an I. C. card, has been matched with Bobby Woods, 126, West Monroe. Howard fought two years with the Farmerville High School team. Woods boasts no previous experience, but he has looked plenty capable of taking care of himself in workouts.

Calvin Bowie, West Monroe, and Alton Roberts, Monroe, will be out for some sort of consolation prize. Both suffered their only defeats at the hands of Joe Cappo on previous I. C. cards, and they'll be together in the ring for the first time tomorrow.

Another pair of former losers will be matched in a 130-pound setto. Aubrey Young, loser to Wig Riley, Bastrop, three weeks ago, will meet Norris Ray, Bastrop, who has lost only to June Woods, Monroe.

Woods, unbeaten yet on an I. C. program, will be matched against Riley, also unbeaten, in what stacks up as Monday's main event.

"Stick" Atkins, Bastrop, scheduled to meet Harold Cornett, will not be able to do so because of a leg injury, and Joe Cappo, who was developing rapidly, will miss the show because of illness.

Pointing out that these fights will determine the team to be selected to fight clubs from other cities, Curtis Johnson, I. C. Service Club president, has requested that any boys feeling capable of displacing boys currently leading for positions on the team apply for the opportunity to do so.

Final selections for the team will call for two boxers in each weight class, and out-of-town trips to meet teams in Louisiana and Arkansas are already being planned.

Tomorrow night's program will include at least two fights between Negro mittmen, and the Negro boys have been giving good accounts of themselves on past cards. Negroes to box tomorrow night won't be named before tomorrow morning.

Matchmaker Head said a schedule of fights for the winter would be announced next Sunday, and it was also declared that preparations are underway to build a roof over the arena.

Grid's Unbeaten Powers Dwindle Down To 4 Major College Teams

Army, Irish, Georgia, U. C. L. A. Rolls On; Penn, Harvard Upset

By Harold Claassen

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—(AP)—Army and Notre Dame clattered by a pair of valiant college football foes today and thus each enters the epic struggle in New York's Yankee Stadium next Saturday with an unblemished record.

Army's Cadets, thirteen of them appearing in their final home game, downed West Virginia, 13 to 0, primarily on the passing brilliance of Arnold Tucker. Notre Dame, playing before 65,000 paying customers and a horde of Army scouts at Baltimore won from Navy, 28 to 0, without divulging a single secret.

While these two games went according to pre-game calculations, Pennsylvania and Harvard were spilled from the ranks of all winning teams in a pair of astounding upsets.

Pennsylvania, regarded as only surpassed by Army in the east, was dumped by a rebellious Princeton outfit, 17 to 14, when Ken Keuffel booted a 30-yard field goal that stunned both Penn and the 72,000 spectators. Harvard was the 13 to 0 victim of Rutgers, a team that previously had bowed to both Princeton and Columbia.

Northwestern was toppled from the Big Nine top by Ohio State, 39 to 27, and Tennessee mastered North Carolina, 20 to 14. It was the first defeat of the year for both the Wildcats and the Tar Heels.

That quartet of defeats left only Army, Notre Dame, U. C. L. A. and Georgia among the major unbeaten powers. The West Coast eleven triumphed last night, 49 to 20, over St. Mary's but the Georgia Bulldogs pounced on Alabama today, 14 to 0, in a battle which saw Charlie Trippi outshine Harry Gilmer of the Tide in a personal show.

Another previously unbeaten, but tied power to be unseated was Oregon. The west Coasters succumbed to the revised Trojans of Southern California, 43 to 0.

The decimation of the unbeaten lists, however, didn't provide the day's only surprises.

Columbia's famed last-half rally failed to materialize and the Blue Lions were blanked by Cornell, 12 to 0. Syracuse marched to a 28 to 7 victory over Temple; Stanford was held to a scoreless deadlock by Oregon State; Georgia Tech shut out Duke, 14 to 0; Arkansas sneaked past Texas A. and M., 7 to 0, and Richmond stopped Virginia 19 to 7 in other games that went slightly awry from expectations.

Illinois cashed in on a fourth period march to eke out a 7-to-0 verdict over Iowa that lifted the Illini to the Big Nine leadership vacated by Northwestern. In other loop frays Minnesota again was held scoreless, this time by Michigan, 21 to 0, and a late rally brought Wisconsin a 24 to 20 triumph over Purdue. Indiana stepped outside the circuit to smash Pittsburgh, 20 to 6.

Kansas created one of the major midwest surprises by upsetting Oklahoma A. and M., 14 to 13, with Ray Evans outshining the famed Bob Fenimore. Missouri bustled to the front of the Big Six class with a 21 to 0 triumph over Nebraska, the Huskers collecting all their points after the Tigers had rolled to three touchdowns. Iowa State mastered Kansas State, 13 to 7.

Arkansas' feat of beating Texas A. and M. left Rice as the Southwest Conference only unbeaten team in loop competition. The Owls, last week's conquerors of Texas, crushed Texas Tech, 41 to 6, while the Longhorns hurdled Southern Methodist, 19 to 3, Oklahoma took Texas Christian, 14 to 12.

Georgia Tech, showing more power week by week, nicked Duke, 14 to 0, in a game that most experts saw going the other way. William and Mary kept Maryland on the losing side, 41 to 7, Clemson bounced back with a 14 to 7 verdict over Virginia Tech. North Carolina State pasted an injury riddled Virginia Military squad, 49 to 7.

Kentucky won from Michigan State, 39 to 14, in an intersectional affair and Vanderbilt moved through Auburn, 19 to 0. Shorty McWilliams sat on the bench resting a twisted knee as Mississippi State belted Murray, 69 to 0.

The eastern results included Penn State's 68 to 0 verdict over Fordham, Boston College's 72 to 6 romp over New York University, Holy Cross' sparkling 21 to 19 verdict over Brown and Delaware's 27th victory in a row, a 28 to 0 affair at Franklin and Marshall's expense.

California pulled a mild surprise on the West Coast with a 47 to 14 trouncing of Washington State.

VOLS BOUNCE BACK AGAINST TAR HEELS

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 2.—(AP)—Tennessee's Volunteers bounced back into the victory column today and in doing so toppled North Carolina from the nation's list of unbeaten football teams, 20 to 14, before a wildly cheering crowd of 35,000.

The Vols failed to bottle up completely the Tar Heels' sensational freshman halfback, Charley Justice, but he got loose only once and that was not enough to offset the slashing power of a Tennessee team that was definitely on the rebound after last week's setback by Wake Forest.

Tennessee scored twice in the first period, mixing line plays and passes to tally the two touchdowns. The Tar Heels came back in the second stanza to register their two touchdowns.

Billy Myers plunged over from the one-yard-stripe for the second after Justice raced 73 yards through the entire Vol team for the second.

The Vols' third and winning marker was tallied by Capt. Walter Slater on a brilliant 78-yard punt return midway the third stanza.

SPORTS ROUND UP

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—(AP)—Don't be surprised if Tommy Harmon turns up at fullback for the Los Angeles Rams some Sunday. The ex-sportscaster hasn't been doing too badly at halfback, but George Halas claims Tommy would be the third-best fullback in "T" formation football—ranking behind Bill Osmanski and Bronko Nagurski. . . . And when Halas talks, National Football League coaches listen. . . . Penn State and Washington State plan to inaugurate a football series in 1947, playing the first game at Hershey, Pa. . . . Skidmore College alumni and students are agitating for more football, even though Vassar Turned down their GI challenge. Next thing the gals probably will be collecting dough for athletic scholarships.

Everything At (Or For) Steak

When the Chicago Bears reached New York to play the Giants last week, each player was handed $13.50 to pay for his week-end grub. John Schiechl, Rudy Mucha and Fred Davis dropped into a Broadway restaurant for Saturday lunch because Davis knew the manager and were so well fed for $1.75 that they decided to return for dinner. This time the tab was $6.90 apiece, which must have left them pretty hungry by Sunday night.

Sports Before Your Eyes

Columbia's Lou Little maintains that the Cornell backfield, as a unit, is the fastest of any team his Lions face this season—and Columbia was on the same field with Army, you remember. It's a good way to start an agrument. . . . Another "contest" item: One North Atlantic League baseball club used 77 players at one time or another during the past season. Is that a record? . . . The Notre Dame-N. Y. U. basketball game, which won't be played until Feb. 24, is carried on the Garden schedule with a "no public ticket sale" note. . . . The U. of Michigan hockey team is going clear to the Pacific coast to play California this winter with a stopover at Colorado College.

Cleaning The Cuff

The first U. S.-Canada semi-pro baseball championship series was a financial bust, but Ray (Global) Dumont plans to continue it—since the Kansas State and national tourneys drew $140,000 at Wichita. . . . Surprise: The official basketball guide is out this year before the first college game. . . . Idaho Southern U. is proposing a home-and-home "spud bowl" football series with the U. of Maine. That certainly should ap-peel to the fans.

STATE COLLEGE, Miss., Nov. 2.—(AP)—The Mississippi State Maroons passed their way to a 69-0 victory over little Murray State Teachers College before 6,000 spectators here today.

The Marcons' ace tailback, Shorty McWilliams, whose knee was twisted in last week's game with Tulane, watched from the sidelines as Billy Murphy and Eagle Matulich handled his chores effectively against the impotent opposition.

Passes scored five touchdowns and set up another. Twice the Teachers gave away fumbles on their twelve-yard line, and the Maroons pushed over scores. Only twice were the winners required to march any distance to pay dirt, and one of those drives was started by a fumble recovery.

In the first couple of minutes Murphy passed from midfield to Harper Davis, who took the ball on the 14 and ran across. Jennings Moates sneaked two yards for the next score after Davis and Bob Pillow had powered a 61-yard push. A fumble later gave the Marcons the ball on the Murray 12 and Pillow went over in two smashes. A pass interception by Center Bill McCain brought another scoring opportunity and Murphy passed ten yards to H. Davis in the end zone.

In the second period Matulich passed 18 yards to Graham Bramlett who ran twelve yards more to score. Matulich hit left tackle for eight yards and another touchdown after a 47-yard drive. Sonny Jones ran twelve yards over right guard for the next following another Murray bobble.

Matulich combined with Sub Wingback Johnny Grace on touchdown passes on 50 and 46 yards in the third period. Sub Fullback Jim Pittman bulled eight yards for the last six-pointer.

Ted Shuff, sub tackle, placekicked eight extra points in eight tries. Leo Seal, another tackle reserve, made one out of two.

NAME BRENNAN RACE DIRECTOR

Monroe Businessman In Charge Of Miniature Racing In Southwest

F. J. "Fran" Brennan, Monroe businessman and miniature race car enthusiast, has been named regional director of the southwest for the American Miniature Race Car Association, it was announced yesterday.

Brennan, who is also secretary of the Louisiana Race Car Club at Monroe, which is drawing national attention to its scheduled New Year's Day "speedway classic" here, also reported that 65 entries have already been received from race enthusiasts throughout the nation for the New Year's event.

Meanwhile, members of the Monroe club are giving their own cars tune-ups in races held each Sunday afternoon at their concrete speedway at the old Lakeside Country Club north of the city. There is no admission charge to the races, and spectators are welcomed by the racers.

The miniature race car clubs and organizations are non-profit groups, it was pointed out, and offer their sport for entertainment and pleasure. There are at the present twelve members in the local club, and membership is open to any persons with a desire to participate in any way with the racing of these power-driven little cars that attain speeds in excess of 100 miles per hour. Local members have recently acquired half a dozen new Pacemaker cars and they'll have their machines out for today's tune-ups.

O. P. H. S. HOLDS HOMECOMING AGAINST BYRD HI THURSDAY

Jackets, Lions Resume Old Rivalry In 'AA' Game At Brown Field

The Lions of Ouachita Parish High School, idle the past week as they used an open date to get ready for their Class AA strugle with Byrd High School of Shreveport, will meet the Yellow Jackets in their homecoming game here Thursday night at Brown Field.

Selection of the Lions' homecoming queen will claim the spotlight at Ouachita tomorrow and Tuesday as the balloting continues for the choice of the queen from a group of 18 Ouachita beauties. The voting ends at 12:55 p. m. Tuesday.

Candidates for the homecoming crown and seat of honor at Thursday's game are Janis Brown, Gene Gentry, Betty Dyar, Geraldine Jones, Libby Butler, Betty Bennett, Jerry Platt, Helen Prothro, Betty Autrey, Laverne Cockrell, Jackie Henry, Emily Orr, Joan Parker, Nancy Golson, Evelyn Gochenour, Ann Atkinson, Alice Perry, and Mary Coates.

But Ouachita, with a record of two victories, two ties and three defeats, will be going into action as the less favored team. Haynesville's Golden Tornado, which downed the Lions, 13-0, sewed up the north Louisiana Class AA championship Friday night by defeating Byrd only 7-0.

The Lions are still shooting for their first win over a double A rival this year, but Coaches Jim Hodgins and Herbert Holliman have taken advantage of their open date to get their charges in good condition for the game and have high hopes of springing an upset on the Jackets, former charges of Coach Hodgins who came to the Lions only this season after several years as assistant Byrd mentor.

Last year the Lions tripped Byrd, 25 to 0, at Shreveport.

NOTRE DAME EASILY SCUTTLES MIDDIES

BALTIMORE, Nov. 2.—(AP)—Practically surrounded by Army's football "spies," the Irish of Notre Dame openly opened one corner of their bag of tricks today, but that was more than enough to scuttle the Navy, 28 to 0, for the most lop-sided win in the 20-game history of this series.

With their national championship collision with the Cadets only a week away the Irish played it straight with a minimum of special stuff and a maximum of substitutions to roll to their fifth straight win of their unbeaten campaign.

They scooted to three touchdowns in the first half—two of them as a result of navy bobbles—and then ploughed 56 yards to the final taliy in the last two minutes of the game as Coach Frank Leahy took the wraps off Ernie Zalejski, the only recently discharged veteran who is supposed to be a "breakaway" runner. There was one other "touchdown," too, an 83-yard gallop by Gerry Cowhig, but it was called back because of a penalty.

With huge George Connor heading the charging Irish line and Johnny Lujack doing the steering to a "T" in the backfield, Navy's attack bounced harmlessly off the Notre Damers most of the afternoon, except for a few moments in the third quarter. Then for a while, the Middies caught fire and sailed 69 yards and 35 inches down field, only to be held for downs on the Irish one-inch line. Ralph Williams, of Miami, Fla., and Bill Hawkins led this parade.

there was a possibility they might talk while here.

As for the possibility of a political campaign speech just prior to the voting, the situation is unchanged. He has no plans for a talk.

The president's talk with newsmen took place on the driveway to the rear of his old-fashioned frame home here at the end of the brisk 120 paces a minute stroll which left his followers gasping for breath.

A single secret service man walked beside Mr. Truman as he stepped jauntily along in the chilly November weather without a top coat. He wore gloves and carried an old cane he picked up at the 1925 American Legion convention.

He came to a halt at 909 West Waldo street, a few blocks from his present home at 219 Delaware.

"This is where I used to live as a boy," he told the reporters. Nearby, he said, is a swimming pool and a skating rink where he played in his childhood, and the old ball grounds.

The procession continued into a nearby street where a few curious turned to stare or wave and an occasional old friend walked up for a "Hello Harry" and a handshake.

The president exchanged greetings with a little girl in pigtails and autographed a sheet of stationery for Virginia Jennings, aged 11.

As Mr. Truman came to the intersection of Union and Lexington, a car approached. The three women occupants waved excited greetings and got out to shake his hand. The driver forgot to pull up the handbrake and the machine rolled forward until she realized her mistake.

"They are cousins of mine," the president told reporters as the walk resumed. He meant two of them—the Noland sisters—who live across the street from him.

In a reminiscent mood, Mr. Truman paused briefly at North Pleasant and Lexington where the First Presbyterian Church stands. A Baptist, the president said, "this is where I used to go to Sunday school."

The president, ending his walk, told reporters he would remain at home until time for a pre-Armistice dinner tonight at the President Hotel at Kansas City with his old comrades of battery D, 129th Field Artillery, which he commanded in World War I.

48 ESTONIANS

friend and adviser, the Rev. James Loeffler.

"The fight is over," he cried as he reached the group busily at work on their three boats.

They gathered about him as he told of Mr. Truman's action, and then broke into wild rejoicing. Many cried and several kissed the earth. A radio aboard one of the boats blared forth with American hill-billy tunes.

"We want to thank your great president very, very much," said Tandre. "He must be a fine man with a big heart. We'll do our best to make good citizens. He can depend on us."

"I'll vote for Mr. Truman if I can and the others will too," said Capt. Arnold Tamm.

"I was almost speechless. I couldn't believe the news," added Capt. Arnold Rull.

Tandre skippered the first group of 18 into Miami Aug. 21. He was followed by Tamm with 11 Estonians and one Finn on Sept. 9, and on Sept. 28, Rull headed a party of 18 Estonians into port. All had come some 6,000 miles from Sweden by the southern route.

Tandre's group was the first to be considered by the immigration department and were refused entrance because they did not have visas. Ten days ago all 48 were taken into custody by the border patrol after Tandre's group was given 24 hours to decide whether to remain and face deportation or to seek haven in another country. It was then that Mr. Truman intervened.

Tandre said the group of 32 men, 16 women and two children contained many skilled workers. Some, he said, were mechanics, farmers, fishermen and sailors. He added that those not yet familiar with the English language planned to pick it up by taking jobs in homes and farms.

"It's been a dark month," he concluded, "but the sun is shining for us at last."

ELECTIONS

Congress, the Republicans need a net gain of 10 Senate and 26 House seats.

Republican Senate strength now stands at 39. The Democrats have 56. Progressives one. A majority is 49. Only 35 of the 96 Senate seats are at stake Tuesday, 24 of them now Democratic, 10 Republican and one Progressive.

In the House, the Republicans now have 192 members and need 218 for a numerical majority. The Democrats have 235, minor parties two, and there are six vacancies previously filled by Democrats.

Politicians are watching both congressional and gubernatorial contests in strategic states for their current importance and possible effects on aspirants for presidential nominations in 1948.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, who could not down President Roosevelt in 1944, is trying now for another gubernatorial term. An impressive victory over the Democratic candidate, Senator James M. Mead, might put him in line to break the G. O. P. tradition against renominating an unsuccessful presidential candidate.

Former Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio, the Republican vice-presidential choice in 1944, is trying this year for the Senate against Democratic Senator James W. Huffman. Bricker is mentioned as 1948 presidential timber along with Dewey and Gov. Earl Warren of California. Warren has both major party nominations for another term and is assured of reelection in advance.

On the Democratic side, Gov. Frank J. Lausche might move into a spot for consideration in 1948 should he beat back the challenge to another term offered by Thomas J. Jerbert, Cleveland Republican.

In staking out the most optimistic Democratic claim to date on Tuesday's results, Hannegan said his party will pick up strength in Congress because the people have responded "to our campaign of citing the record of the past, stating the issues of today, and offering a positive, constructive program for the future."

The Republicans, he declared, have "resorted to the false charge of Communism" because they have only a "record of obstruction" and no program for the future.

Hannegan said the estimate of nearly 60,000,000 qualified voters means there will be a "tremendous increase in the turnout" over previous off-year elections. He interpreted this as indicative of a protest by the people against what he called the "obstructive performance" of G. O. P. members of Congress who are seeking reelection.

Up to now, the Democratic chairman said, they have had to protest by letter and telegram and their messages were disregarded in a "public-be-damned" attitude.

"On Tuesday the protest takes another form," he asserted. "It will be registered where the Republic can no longer be damned—at the polling places throughout America."

In the Republican camp, Reece said the chief reason the next Congress will be Republican is that the people have decided to turn over control to a party which "has proved by its record that it is able to give the nation orderly and efficient and economic government in harmony with the principles of the constitution."

If current polls are accurate on trends, Reece said, his calculations may be "ridiculously inadequate." But he predicted the G. O. P. would gain a minimum of 40 and a maximum of 49 House seats, distributed about like this:

Five to six in New England; four to six in New York; five to seven in Pennsylvania; 17 to 19 in West Virginia, Maryland, Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Minnesota, Michigan and Missouri; and nine to 11 in the west.

As for the Senate, Reece said rock bottom estimates indicate the Republicans are sure to win seven seats and have a 50-50 chance for seven more. These, he said, are in 18 states outside the south where the seats are not now Republican.

ADVOCATE CHANGES IN SCHOOL FUNDS

BATON ROUGE, La., Nov. 2.—(AP)—Louisiana's present methods of distributing school funds need thoroughgoing revision, three high officials of the state education system agreed today in testimony before a legislative committee.

The three—Board of Education President Frank Godchaux, Board Finance Committee Chairman George Madison, and State Superintendent of Education John E. Coxe—were not unanimous as to the extent and method of the needed changes.

But all three told the recess educational investigating committee that a much-criticized action of the board in altering a school cost formula so as not to deprive New Orleans of $687,000 a year was justified under the present limitations.

Godchaux's recommendations for changes were the most sweeping, calling for a complete scrapping of present school tax dedication policies. Madison said he thought a part of the school funds could be allotted on a basis of attendance rather than the gross number of children of school age. Coxe advocated scrapping a limitation of 90 per cent on the amount of state funds a parish may receive towards its minimum educational program. It was the 90 per cent limitation which precipitated the dispute over New Orleans funds.

Coxe, declaring that New Orleans pays a third of the ad valorem tax in the state and a third of most other taxes as well, said a means had to be found to enable the city to share in increased school funds voted by the legislature this year, though the 90 per cent clause stood in the way. Permanent elimination of this clause, tried unsuccessfully at three legislative sessions, would make possible a much better formula for school funds, he said.

BATON ROUGE, La.—Letter winners on Louisiana State's athletic teams now are authorized to wear dresses, bobby socks, tight-fitting sweaters, and an assortment of "unmentionables"—at least for a week. It's all part of formal initiation for membership in the coveted "L" club.

trol so weak that Trieste would, in fact, be under Belgrade influence. The Tito government has declared that if the present recommendation is adopted it will not sign the treaty with Italy.

2. The Danube. The United States and Britain want this river, which is still tight in Russia's grip, opened to commerce. Clauses stipulating freedom of navigation on the Danube were written into the treaties for Romania, Hungary and Bulgaria. They were approved by a two-thirds majority vote at Paris, but Russia voted in opposition, which is equivalent to a veto since the big four must agree unanimously on all treaties.

3. Bulgaria's frontiers. Russia and the five other Slavic states attempted at Paris to persuade the delegates to award Bulgaria Greece's western Thrace province in the Greek panhandle along Turkey's border.

The conference commissions recommended that Bulgaria's frontiers remain as they were Jan. 1, 1941, but the recommendation was defeated in the plenary conference although no delegate voted against it. By the curious vote of nine in favor of the recommendation, none against it and 12 abstentions, the measure failed to obtain a majority of those present and voting.

Molotov assured the Bulgarians at the close of the conference that he would look after their frontiers when the foreign ministers met in New York where only unanimous decisions are permitted.

If the Russians maintain their threat to hold out for their point of view in the council of foreign ministers, the final peace treaties with the Axis satellites may not be written for years.

The big question is whether Russia will accept the decisions made at Paris by a two-thirds majority. Byrnes repeatedly declared that the United States would support any conference recommendation which got a two-thirds majority vote. France and Britain have indicated that they will take similar action.

In fitting the Paris conference into the picture with the foreign ministers meeting here, it should be remembered that the allied 17 nations were invited to the French capitol by the "big four" only to express their views on the treaties drafted by the foreign minister's council.

SMALL NATIONS ATTACK LAUNCHED AGAINST COUNCIL

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Nov. 2.—(AP)—Despite strenuous efforts of Soviet Russia to block criticism of the United Nations security council, Egypt and Argentina today led a small-nations attack on the council for rejecting the applications of Ireland, Portugal, Trans-Jordan, Albania and Outer Mongolia for U. N. membership.

The sharpest attack came from Argentine Delegate Jose Arce, who protested particularly against use of the veto on membership applications and declared that if this procedure is to be followed "it is better if the other 46 nations simply folded up our papers and turned over to the five great powers the solution of our problems."

The controversy developed at the opening meeting of the general assembly's powerful political committee, which has before it such explosive issues as the Soviet arms limitation proposals, demands for action against Franco Spain and the veto question.

One of the high spots in the debate was a clash between Senator Tom Connally (D-Tex.), U. S. representative, and Soviet Representative Andrei Y. Vishinsky over the broad principle of the committee's right to review the security council's actions.

Vishinsky insisted that the committee had no "mandate" to criticize the council, while Connally contended the committee had the entire report of the council before it and could discuss any part of the report dealing with the admission of new members.

"What good does information do if you can't talk about it?" Connally asked, "if you have to whisper it and mark it top secret? Why should we be afraid to discuss anything that pertains to peace, pass it on the street, shun it as though it were a leper?"

The committee already had unanimously recommended that the assembly approve the membership applications of the three nations previously recommended by the security council—Sweden, Iceland and Afghanistan—and Vishinsky said it should limit its action to that.

The criticism of the council, however, had been started earlier and Committee Chairman Dmitri Manuilsky, foreign minister of the Soviet Ukraine, ruled that other members should be allowed an opportunity to make declarations.

Egyptian Delegate Mahmound Bey Fawzi accused the council of overstepping its authority by rejecting the five applicants for reasons not in the U. N. charter, and called on the assembly to send the applicants back to the council for reconsideration. The Philippine delegation also proposed that the council be asked to reconsider its action.

El Salvador and Australia both proposed that the assembly set up a definite yardstick to be used by the council in the future in determining whether or not applicants were eligible. Australian Delegate Paul Hasluck attempted to introduce a resolution embodying his proposals, but the chairman ruled he must submit it in writing at least one day before it could be discussed.

The Argentine delegate, joining in the heated debate, asserted that the general assembly had no limitations whatsoever in its rights to admit or reject new members to the U. N., regardless of the conclusions of the security council. He argued that the assembly, by a two-thirds vote, could accept or not accept decisions of the council.

"Otherwise, it would be sufficient for one country only to decide by means of the veto, which countries join the United Nations," he said.

He said the Argentine delegation would not accept that position and wanted to register its protest.

MANY ENGINEERS TO BE DISMISSED

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 2.—(AP)—At least half of the U. S. engineering department's 40,000 employes throughout the nation probably will be dismissed as a result of President Truman's order curtailing flood control experiments, the Commercial Appeal reported tonight.

In a copyrighted story, the paper said several engineers districts are being closed—including those at Providence, R. I., Syracuse, N. Y., and Cincinnati.

The Commercial Appeal added:

Dismissals will include key field leaders and most of the veteran field flood fighters in the civilian functions branch of the corps of engineers.

More than 6,100 employes of a total of 10,500 in the Memphis, Vicksburg and New Orleans districts, including both seasonal and permanent workers, are to be let out.

Many of the engineer employes were given notice of dismissal Nov. 1. Others will be notified Nov. 15.

Every dredge, heavy towboat and inspector steamer in the lower Mississippi Valley has been ordered out of service and all crews with the exception of about a two per cent maintenance group "will be paid off."

All bank protection work and dredging along the lower Mississippi has been stopped, the paper said.

JES' RAMBLIN'

Egypt being less pressing, it was arranged on the "Q. T." with J. C. Liner of KMLB to borrow the equipment of the Mighty Man of Egypt. And so many here failed to know the secret of the mechanical setup, as they received their KMLB programs. But the instrument has been returned and is now probably far on its way to North Africa. Hope FARUK don't read Jes' Ramblin' this morning and raise a ROYAL FUSS.

A price increase that caused more general comment and mild beefing than any yet instituted went into effect in cafes of leading hotels yesterday morning when coffee was upped to 7 cents per cup. Like all residents of coffee-loving Louisiana, Monroe citizens—Businessmen, public officials and nearly everyone, in fact—must have their morning libation and several others at stated times during the day. A large percentage of them drink it "black," and so were not at all impressed by the coffee shop's announced reason for the two-cent raise—an increase of from 60 cents a quart to 75 cents for the thin "breakfast cream," a few drops of which is available with each cup.

The only Monroe man who dared to be comfortable during the unseasonably warm late autumn days was a banker, who appeared on the streets in a seersucker suit. Except for a man of established high financial rating, such raiment at this time of the year would cause acquaintances to suspect impoverishment.

Dr. F. P. Cerniglia, with a box resembling one that contains shotgun shells in his hand, entered a Monroe store to make a purchase. The attractive young woman clerk at a counter exclaimed "Oh have you got some shotgun shells there?" "Why how is it that you want ammunition?" he asked pleasantly. "I need shotgun shells badly and can't get 'em," she responded. "What gauge are you needing?" he ventured. "Oh I don't know that but I want to use them in a 22 rifle," she answered with a sweet smile.

By connecting up with the lighting in his house he can illumine the boat, making it highly realistic.

of Freeport, N. Y., and is your alias Philip Haas?"

"Yes," said Nickel.

"The New York detectives have a waiver of extradition which they say you are ready to sign. You know that they will take you back to New York to face trial on an embezzlement charge if you sign it?"

"Yes."

"Do you wish to sign?"

"Yes, I will sign," replied Nickel.

The waiver, however, had to be signed before a circuit judge, and Cka gave Hoey the names of higher judges here.

Nickel was questioned for three hours earlier today by Hoey and the New York official said he "readily admitted his part" in the embezzlement.

He said Nickel seemed "almost relieved" to be in custody. The man quickly admitted his identity after a surety company "fingerman" pointed him out to Miami Beach detectives at a resort hotel on Ocean Drive here Thursday night, where he registered as an unassuming "tourist."

Since then, New York authorities reported $71,000 in cash and $25,000 in jewels and furs has been recovered in New York.

Hoey said he would take Nickel back to New York on Monday.

HOLY LAND

homes on the opposite side of the street.

Tomorrow the Jews have called a general strike in protest against the deportation of immigrants to Cyprus. Despite the quiet, police and military authorities maintained a sharp vigil over the entire restive country.

All transportation was interrupted and commercial activity ceased in today's strike. The Jews have called for stoppage of traffic, closing of shops and mass meetings throughout the land in their demonstration.

A dispatch from Beyrouth quoted the Lebanon radio as saying that the foreign ministry was informed that a Jewish immigrant ship being escorted by a British destroyer was in danger of sinking within a few miles of the Lebanese coast. Yesterday the British removed 1,279 immigrants from the refugee ship San Dimitros and sent them to detention camps on Cyprus.

A delegation from the Arab Women's Union presented the British government here with a memorandum calling for abrogation of the Balfour declaration, in which the British declared in 1917 that they looked with favor on the establishment of a Jewish national homeland in Palestine. The Arab women's memorandum called for more stringent measures to combat Jewish-inspired violence and for release of Arab political prisoners.

The Arab higher executive committee said it sent similar demands to the British colonial office in London and to the United Nations in New York City.

Despite the exhortation of some small groups to engage in a procession, the mid-day prayers in the Arab Mosques of the old city ended without incident.

"These mass meetings of both the Jews and the Arabs just give the people a chance to get it off their chests, and we don't expect any trouble," said one confident Palestine authority.

(The London Daily News asserted, today without confirmation that "Jewish terrorists were planning to carry their underground war into the 'heart of Britain'" and said the recent bombing of the British embassy in Rome was "the first blow." The foreign office said their was no connection thus far between the Rome explosion and the Jews, and the colonial office discounted the story.)

The 29th anniversary of the Balfour declaration passed quietly in other Arab countries.

GOVERNOR

Leaving the burden of work to Jefferson Davis, his executive assistant and Alex McKeigney, his executive secretary.

Gov. Bailey is the second successive executive of Mississippi to die in office, the late Gov. Paul B. Johnson having died only a few weeks before the close of his term.

Gov. Bailey lived to see most of his constructive legislative program enacted into law but did not live long enough to see all of his objectives made realisties.

He began his administration along the progressive line of his predecessor, with the first Bailey legislature laying aside a large part of the state treasury surplus for payment of state indebtedness as had been recommended by Gov. Johnson.

The 1944 legislature, on Gov. Bailey's recommendation, also reorganized the parole board, penitentiary system, college board and other state agencies. It revived the dormant Mississippi agricultural and industrial board to entice industries into the state through the "balance agriculture with industry" program.

But it was the 1946 legislature, generally expected to be a "political" session, which worked most closely with Gov. Bailey, inaugurating a vast program of state construction and reforms and appropriating nearly $150,000,000 to carry out its objectives.

The program set up $17,000,000 for construction and repair purposes, including a $3,000,000 state office building and schools for the blind and deaf to cost $1,000,000 each.

It also provided a program of highway construction which, when completed will cost between $60,000,000 and $70,000,000.

The late governor was very proud of his rural life council, established in 1944 to increase interest in rural life in rural communities and was deeply moved when that group, taking his suggestion that a shipload of cattle be sent starving peoples abroad, sent several shiploads to Greece.

In addition to his wife, the former Nellah Massey, Meridian public librarian, he is survived by a son, Harold M. Bailey, a student at the University of Mississippi, a daughter, Mrs. Hunter Cecil Webb, Jr., Meridian; three brothers: Fred Bailey, Maben; Grady Bailey, Moorehead; and James Tobe Bailey, Laurel; a sister, Mrs. Lily Bailey Hamner, Meridian; and two grandsons, Hunter Cecil Webb III, Meridian, and Thomas Lowry Bailey II, University, both colonels on his staff.

PERJURY CHARGES AGAINST 2 SOUGHT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—(AP)—United States District Attorney Edward M. Curran said today perjury indictments will be sought against two grand jury witnesses in Washington's bizarre mass sedition case.

Curran declined to name the witnesses but said they are "in this country." He declared the war department is helping to expedite the return from Germany of two other persons whom he described as "witnesses to the alleged perjury."

The grand jury indicted 30 persons in January, 1944, on charges of conspiring to undermine the morale of the armed forces and to help set up a Nazi form of government in this country. The number of defendants was reduced to 26 with the death of one and the granting of severances to three others.

A mistrial was declared in December, 1944, after seven months of tumultuous court room proceedings, as a result of the death of the presiding judge.

World's Latest Market News

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—(AP)—Last-minute buying of utilities and rails kept the stock market on the recovery track today after considerable profit cashing had been absorbed during the greater part of the brief proceedings.

Brokers credited belated demand partly to Wall Street's broadening political optimism, dividends, earnings and belief that more of a technical revival was in the offing.

The list displayed mild irregularity until bidding became a bit more urgent in the final quarter hour. While scattered losers persisted, closing gains of fractions to 2 points or so predominated. Transfers of around 600,000 shares were the largest for Saturday since early May.

Bonds held to a slim route with a number of rails improving. Cotton and grains steadied toward the finish.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Nov. 2. —(AP)— Short covering in wheat moved prices for that grain up sharply during today's session, but corn and oats could find little incentive to advance except on the strength of wheat. Both rallied briefly during the upsurge in the flour grain, and then fell back to around yesterday's closing levels.

At the finish wheat was 1 1/4 to 2 3/4 higher than the previous close, January $2.06 7/8. Corn was 3/8 to 1 1/2 lower, January $1.34 3/4-7/8. Oats were 1/8 higher to 1/2 lower, November 84 3/8-1/2.

New York

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—(AP)—Cotton futures were irregular today. Profit taking in early dealings drove values down as much as $5.00 a bale, but the setback attracted trade covering and the market quickly rebounded to levels of as much as $2.50 a bale net higher.

Most of the activity centered in nearby positions, with new crop months inclined to lag. Some of the selling this morning was based on technical considerations following the recent advance of as much as $20.00 a bale.

Futures closed $1.75 a bale lower to 50 cents higher than the previous close.

AUTOMOBILE OWNERS

Get Your Car In Condition For The Bout With Old Man Winter

Have your cooling system drained, flushed, radiator hose, heater hose checked or replaced, and cooling system leak-proofed and protected for anti-freeze. Then your motor won't blow its top.

BATTERIES are critically short. Stretch the life of yours. Have your battery, spark plugs, wiring, carburetor, and the entire electrical system checked. A dead battery means a dead car . . . and what could be worse on a cold winter morning. Winter makes heavier demands on the battery. Cold weather lowers battery efficiency.

Have your oil and lubricants changed to winter grade. Be sure that the exhaust system and muffler are not leaky. Exhaust fumes with windows closed can cause drowsiness, nausea—even death.

Have your windshield wipers put in perfect order. Rubberneck driving through rain is nerve-wracking and extremely dangerous.

Memorial Exercise Held In Lodgeroom Friday Night

An impressive public exercise was held by Stonewall Lodge No. 8, Knights of Pythias, Friday night, when honor was paid to the members of the lodge who paid the supreme sacrifice in the recent war. A memorial address was delivered by Judge Vinson M. Mouser, of Columbia.

The keynote of his address was that "we should not break faith with those who gave their all that we may live in peace. If we break faith with them that died, then they have died in vain," he said.

"The loved ones indeed have a bright star in the Heavens to look forward to when the thoughts of those loved ones come into our minds and while we are saddened by their going, we shall be encouraged to live as they would have us live. These men were not selfish and did not ask for praise, but in the strength of their teachings of Friendship, Charity and Benevolence they gave their lives. They did not falter as death approached, but went to join that numberless caravan that moved to the Eternal realms; they went not like galley slaves scourged to their dungeons, but sustained by their peace and courage they wrapped the drapery of their couch about them and lay down to pleasant dreams."

The four men, who were members of the lodge here, and who made the Supreme Sacrifice, are as follows:

Lt. Milton M. Coverdale, born January 11, 1917, died in the service of his country, January 5, 1944; at Pampa, Texas. He was a member of the United States Army Air Corp.

Lt. John David Dumas, born January 27, 1909, died at Jorhat, India, July 1, 1945. He was a member of the United States Army Air Corps.

Lt. Willie Stokes Heard, born September 8, 1913, died on board a Jap prison ship in the China Seas October 20, 1944. He was a member of the United States Army.

Lt. Leo Mark Mayo was born March 28, 1918 and died while returning from a flight over the Pacific, he was shot down on November 2, 1943, and was officially proclaimed dead December 15, 1945.

A large picture of the men was unveiled in the lodge room.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS GO TO LAKE CHARLES

Monroe Knights of Columbus yesterday were in Lake Charles at initiation ceremonies being held there in connection with the organization of three new K. C. councils in southeast Louisiana.

Next Sunday members of the Monroe council, No. 1337, will attend the 9 o'clock mass at St. Paschal's Catholic Church, West Monroe, and receive communion in a body. The Rev. Father Arsenius will officiate at the mass and deliver the sermon.

According to H. A. Shanas, chairman of the council's building fund committee, the drive for funds for the erection of the proposed new K. C. home and community center here is progressing satisfactorily.

The first phase of the building fund driv will be culminated the night of November 21 when a new Ford station wagon will be presented to a contributor at Brown Field in connection with the Northeast Junior College-Arkansas Tech football game which is being sponsored by the local Knights of Columbus.

The game is already being described as a complete sellout, and 1,500 additional bleacher seats are to be erected to help take of the overflow crowd.

Mackenzie's Column

By DeWitt Mackenzie
(Associated Press Foreign News Analyst)

Eddy Gilmore, Associated Press chief of bureau in Moscow, reports that Russians realize there may be stormy periods ahead in the United Nations but the general impression is that the United States and the Soviet Union may be moving into a new phase of understanding which will be of benefit to all.

It certainly is good to hear that the Russians feel that way, because there have been grave doubts in the western world on this point. However, the proof of the plum-duff is in the eating thereof, and so we must wait and see. One thing is clear: This is the witching hour when the spirit of amity is likely to walk, if at all. The time of power manuvering for positions either is about past, or it will lead us into another conflict.

The most hopeful sign thus far is the general agreement (on the face of it) that armaments must be slashed. If the major powers, being united on this point, can now work out details that will be satisfactory to all, we may have found the road to peace. This is so because the dangerous split between Russia and the western Allies has been due in considerable degree to mutual doubts and suspicions regarding the mighty fighting machines which were being maintained.

Moscow has made a great and positive gesture in officially calling for reduction of armaments. The United States has complemented that perfectly with the proposal for safeguarding arms control by an international inspection system.

Such international inspection is, of course, a controversial subject. Russia objected to it in connection with America's atomic energy proposals, on the ground that it would be an infringement of sovereignty. However, the Soviet may regard the broader issue of disarmament differently and so change its mind about atomic energy.

Surely we haven't so soon forgotten the terrible lesson which Hitler taught us about secret rearmament. The mere pledge to disarm won't get the members of the United Nations anywhere. Your banker, even if he is your best friend, makes you put up security for a loan from his institution. The only way a nation can demonstrate its sincerity is by throwing its works open to inspection. If it has nothing to hide it won't mind inspection, especially since the other fellow will be getting the same treatment.

When it comes to cutting down armies there arises what strikes your correspondent as being a delicate situation. In gauging the strength any power has in soldiery, do we take into account the military strength of satellites of that power?

Say a major power reports that it has a standing army of 500,000. Do we also figure on the fact that this power has within its zone of influence maybe half a dozen small satellites, each of which has a standing army of 100,000? According to my calculations that actually would mean that the great power had a standing army of over a million, because the satellites will stand with the great power in case of war.

Perhaps that's making the thing too complicated, but the satellite aspects of the situation will have to be taken into consideration in one way or other in making a reckoning.

More than one million separate, hand-made knots of wool may be found in some nine by twelve Oriental rugs. This multitude of hand-tied knots makes possible the detail in design and the durability of Oriental rugs.

READY FOR TRIAL OF DELAYED CASE

Last Of Tallulah Whiskey Sales Actions Set For Monday

As preparations went forward for the opening in federal court Monday of the trial of Irwin Kott, Harry Weiner and Israel Needleman, of New York and N. Tully Semel, of Amston, Conn., for alleged violations of OPA price regulations in the sale of 356 cases of liquor to the John Beverage Company, of Tallulah, last year, there was no announcement Saturday as to whether Attorney Louis Halle, of New York, would be present for the proceedings.

Halle, listed in the court record as representing Kott only, but declared by other defense lawyers and the accused themselves to be "chief defense counsel" for all, was reported two weeks ago to be seriously ill of a stomach ailment in a Washington hospital, and affidavits to that effect were made the basis of a motion for another delay in the trial. The court granted a continuance of two weeks, instead of the 30 days asked in the motion.

There was no indication Saturday that the United States circuit court of appeals would act in the latest effort of the defense to have the case transferred to the Southern District court of New York.

The other of the two long-pending "Tallulah black market whiskey cases," was ended last Monday when one of the defendants, Jesse Rudy, admitted guilt and his associate, Albert Cooper, entered a plea of nolo contendere. Each was fined $1,000 and jail sentences of one year were suspended. They paid and returned to their homes in Boston.

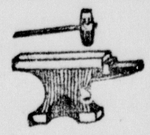

AIR MAIL REACHES NEW HIGH PEAK

Widespread participation in National Air Mail Week was reported by Postmaster James R. Wooten Saturday as air mail receipts reached new highs here.

Postmaster Wooten disclosed that he had been given the most active cooperation of civic groups in promoting wide use of air mail so as to take advantage of the five-cent rate. The post office department, in announcing that greater volume is required to make the lower rate practicable has asked for support at the community level so as to stimulate use of air mail.

"Our post office air mail figures are being reported to Washington for study with other offices in our class," said Postmaster Wooten. "We are most anxious to make a good showing, not only as a matter of local pride, but to do our part in promoting a rate which should be beneficial to the country's commerce.

It's football season again and the cry "Hold That Line" still reverberates down the corridors of time. The heroic fielding of Captain Harry Pribble and Co-Captain J. W. They are seen in the picture today with the beautiful Homecoming queen, Polly Jean Phelps. Captain Pribble is in the center.

Football is the major subject of conversation in Neville school circles at this time but even so the school publication, The Sizzler, must go to press and two students, Katherine Norwood, left, and Esther Ewing, right, were discovered hard at work when the society photographer snapped their picture. Impressive Ceremony Performed By Candlelight At The First Methodist Church On October 26

Miss Royce Is Bride Of A. H. Cloud, Jr.

Prominent Nuptial Event At Methodist Church Claims Large Concourse Of Friends

Myriad cathedral tapers, flaming high in the background, pricked the dimness of the altar at the First Methodist Church when Miss Emily Anne Royce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Carol Royce, walked down the aisle to become the bride of Mr. Albert Hadden Cloud, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Cloud, October 26 at five o'clock in the evening.

Tall white pedestal baskets overflowing with superb white chrysanthemums formed a semi-circle against a background of southern smilax and woodwardia fern.

The lighting of the tapers by the groomsmen, Mr. Charles McKenzie, Jr., cousin of the bride, and Jimmy Goodwin, was a distinct part of the impressive ceremony.

At the nuptial hour Mrs. John Sholars rendered a brilliant organ concert and accompanied the soloist, Miss Betty Rinehart, who sang in beautiful soprano voice, "Because" and "I Love You Truly."

The matron of honor, Mrs. C. H. Marshall, sister of the bride, wore a bouffant taffeta model of azure blue, reflecting the Victorian era prevailing this season. It was fashioned with deep round yolk and modified bustle. She carried an arm bouquet of pale pink asters, with satin streamers of a darker shade of pink. Her head dress was a coronet of tulle.

The bridesmaids, Misses Mary Cloud, Betty Sue Jones, Louise Rinehart and Mary Elizabeth Meek, wore matching models of lustrous pink faille, exact duplicates of the gown worn by the matron of honor. They carried arm bouquets of desert rose asters tied with matching ribbons. Tulle coronets formed the head dress.

The groomsmen were Charles E. McKenzie, cousin of the bride, Jimmy Goodwin III, Prentice Lenard and David Martin. Mr. Joe Moore, a former shipmate of the groom, served as best man.

Mrs. W. C. Royce, the bride's mother, was handsomely attired in blue lame', adroitly draped in the current mode. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

An azure blue model studded with nail-heads in a Robien design was worn by the groom's mother, Mrs. Albert Cloud. Her corsage was of pink carnations and tuberoses.

The groom's paternal grandmother, Mrs. Mary Cloud, wore a becoming model of blue-mink wool, with beaded bodice. She also wore carnations.

The bride's maternal grandmother, Mrs. M. M. Munholland, wore a Joseph Halpert original plum colored model, softly draped and clasped at the waist with rhinestones. Rose carnations and tuberoses formed her corsage.

Black and white were worn by Mrs. Royce, paternal grandmother of the bride. Her corsage was of talisman roses.

The bride, walking with her father, wore a handsome original Marie designed gown of gleaming white satin. Outlining the sheer yolk of marquisette, were seed pearls in laurel leaf design. This motif was repeated at the wrists of the sleeves, which were long and tight-fitting. The voluminous skirt ended in a court train.

The bouffant veil of illusion was caught to the hair with a coronet of inscroll work design and beaded in pearls. She wore the bridegroom's wedding gift, a strand of beautiful pearls.

Her bouquet of lavender orchids with a shower of tuberoses, was surmounted with a small, white testament, a gift to her father by a cherished friend, when he was a small boy.

In her slipper she wore a silver half dime, found by her maternal grandmother and grandfather before they were married, and inscribed with the initials "M. M. to E. T."

Guests motored to the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Munholland in Fairview, for the reception, immediately following the ceremony. The lower floor, spacious and comfortable, was banked with white chrysanthemums and double white sesanquas. Candles flamed high on the leaf banked mantel which offered a background for the wedding party and the parents of the bride and groom who assisted in receiving. Mrs. Munholland, wearing a black evening model, extended courtesies.

The dining-room was candle lit and florally adorned with white chrysanthemums. The bride's table, overlaid with exquisite damask cloth, was developed in white and silver. The central decor was the handsome three tiered wedding cake, embossed with spun sugar lilies of the valley and roses, and surmounted with fresh tuberoses. Maiden hair fern and gardenias encircled the cake. At either end of the table triangular candlesticks with gleaming white tapers were arranged with gardenias at the base.

Punch and individual wedding cakes were served to the guests by Misses Clarice Slagle, Cornelia McHenry, Clara Munholland, Bennie Hughes, Betty Gene Greenwell, Betty Ann Taylor, Sue Dickard and Pauline Breard, all life long friends of the bride.

After cutting their wedding cake, the bride tossed her bouquet, which was caught by Miss Mary Cloud, sister of the groom.

The bride changed to a smart fall model of gold wool, with accessories of dark brown. She wore a smart brown hat with small veil. A corsage of orchids completed this distinctive ensemble.

After a short honeymoon the young couple will be at home in Baton Rouge, where Mr. Cloud is attending school. He recently returned from overseas where he served as ensign in the U. S. navy.

Mr. Cloud is a graduate of Ouachita Parish High School and Northeast Junior College, where he was a member of the Phi Theta Kappa honor fraternity and business manager for the Chacahoula, the school year book.

He attended Louisiana Tech and was in the navy V-12 unit. From there he was sent to a supply school at Harvard University, and after completing his course there he served with the Pacific fleet for nine months. He is now completing his course in accounting at the state university and is also affiliated with the Louisiana National Bank of Baton Rouge. He is a member of the Kappa Sigma fraternity.

Mrs. Cloud graduated from Ouachita Parish High School, Northeast Junior College and received her B. S. degree from Louisiana Tech. She is a member of Kappa Delta sorority, Phi Theta Kappa honor fraternity and Delta Beta Sigma sorority.

Following her graduation from Louisiana Tech, Mrs. Cloud was a member of the faculty of Ouachita Parish High School.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were: Mrs. Charles K. Hawley, Delhi, La., Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cloud and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bergeron of Baton Rouge, La., Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Marshall and small son "Bill," Baytown, Tex., Mr. Joe Moore, Durant, Miss., Mr. and Mrs. Philip Habeeb and daughter, Shirley, of Vicksburg, Miss., and Mr. David Martin, Austin, Tex.

Club Members Enjoy Program

Diversified Program Presented By Welcome Branch Book Club Members

In accordance with their plan to map the year's course of study to correspond with department subjects, members of the Welcome Branch of the Twentieth Century Book Club, conducted a forum on the American Home, when they met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Henson Coon, 601 Auburn avenue. Mrs. A. J. Speer served as co-hostess.

The forum, second program in the series dealing with the American home, constituted personality and character building.

The first speaker, Mrs. Dean Selig, discussed "The Art of Make Up," and quoted from Donee Smedley's book "You Are Only Young Twice." She said in part: "The so-called 'signs of age' are in most instances symptoms of neglect, poor health habits, and emotional excesses. Overindulgence in certain foods to the exclusion of others, working to the point of exhaustion in a business, a profession, or even while running a home will cause the years to catch up with a woman because of these things, themselves, rather than the years she has lived. Perhaps the most destructive of all these practices is the habit of emotional storms. No woman over thirty can afford the luxury of an emotional upset more than once a year, because of its injurious effect upon her nerves, and upon the glands that keep a woman young. Those who live habitually in a state of worry and apprehension, and who are chronically in a state of tension and irritability develop wrinkles, flabby tissues, and gray hair. Living with people harmoniously, plus more attention to beauty care, vitamins, and becoming clothes will cause a persons best friends to remark "she is young for her age," or, if the opposite is the case, "she has grown old before her time." It is never too late to learn new beauty techniques, and thus erase or modify the scars of past indulgences. Set about the task of analyzing your face, hair, style and figure as coldly and impartially as if you were studying a stranger. A Frenchman once said, "Every woman has more natural talent for making herself charming than she ever uses." This is true. Corrective aids in regards to wardrobe, accessories, coiffure, cosmetics that suit the coloring of the individual, combined with real skill in applying, will go far in creating a new you."

Mrs. H. D. Holmes advised members to "Take care of your Three Selves." She said, "There is no one type of personality everyone of us should possess. We are naturally different, and the reasons for this are fundamental. It is needful only that we make the most of the good qualities belonging to the type of individual that we happen to be, bringing forth the best in us to encourage our children to develop their highest qualities. Without taking ourselves too seriously, we should make our contribution a happy and helpful part of the social situation in which our loved one must form his own selflife. In the examples we set for him, and our associates, we must stress the right kind of personality, making it so manifest, that the child will not misinterpret either his father or mother, who are so near to him and mean so much. Your first self is the self that must eat, have a coat, sometimes a doctor, and money to pay for all. Most of you have a middle fortune, neither poverty or riches, something in between a hobo and Henry Ford. Perhaps this middle fortune is the best, with just enough for comfort, just enough for freedom. Your second self is yourself as others see you, your good name. You may have in this respect, high fortune. Your name may shoot up into glory—for an hour or for life. On the other hand, you may lose your good name. In one reckless minute you may lose it forever. Dangerous emotions and impulses are sometimes controlled by prompt thinking of something else—anything else. Your third self is just yourself, that you are with when you are alone. You may lose the self that is your body, and the self that desires honorable fame and lies buried in a forgotten grave. But nothing in the world outside yourself, can deny victory to the self that you are—your inner self. Take care of the three selves of personality, that form the most important influences in every home," Mrs. Holmes concluded.

Mrs. J. D. Petty, spoke of religious influences as a factor in developing the highest type of personality, her subject was: "An Eternal Anchor."

Mrs. Charles S. Swain summed up the "Influence of Home and School," in regards to the effects of the teachers personality upon the normal development of pupil personality."

An interlude of music by American composers, characteristic of the best-loved music for the home, was provided by Mrs. E. Everett Lawson.

A book review, "I Love Miss Tilli Bean," by Ilka Chase, given by Mrs. E. J. Whitman, climaxed the afternoon's program.

During the business session, presided over by the president, Mrs. A. S. Gunter, routine reports were given by department chairmen and officers. Mrs. Zell Smith, chairman of "The Clubwoman," reported that Louisiana is third in the tabulation of "Clubwoman" subscriptions, according to General Federation of Women's Clubs headquarter's information.

Refreshments were served to members and guests as follows: Mesdames F. E. Black, H. V. Collins, Henson Coon, J. Norman Coon, A. R. Doughty, G. J. Durbin, E. C. Gibson, A. S. Gunter, M. R. Mrs. Edward Crowley served as hostess and was assisted by Mrs. Burl Hollis and Mrs. Raymond John.

The mystic Halloween season inspired the attractive table decorations of yellow chrysanthemum with yellow tapers in individual crystal and silver vases tied with black satin ribbon. Sprays of feathery fern and golden hued chrysanthemum's were gracefully strewn down the full length of the table.

The president, Mrs. Jack Masur, extended a gracious welcome to guests and associate members seated at the luncheon table.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Ernest Holloway at the Presbyterian Parsonage at 6 o'clock in the evening in the presence of a few intimate friends.

VON WEBER'S MUSIC IS A FEATURE OF THE MUSICAL COTERIE'S OCTOBER PROGRAM

Mrs. W. P. Grant entertained members of the musical coterie in her studio at Northeast Junior College of music.

After a brief business session a splendid program was given. The text, "The German Way," by Mrs. Grayson Gutherie, Jr., was most interesting as she discussed the epoch of German romanticism. It was then that Carl Maria von Weber composed the opera "Der Freischutz," which made him the operatic man of the hour in Germany. Von Weber is regarded as the first important operatic composer to open the new avenues of romanticism in the nineteenth century.

In "Der Freischutz," he sought to escape Italian influence, by discarding plots of intrigue, seeking rather for material in the legends of his own country in which a wondering child-like interest in folklore of the supernatural order is evident. He gave to the German operatic music that first tinge of nationalism which developed to its ultimate in Wagner, with his monumental music dramas of Teuton mythology.

The word "freischutz," means not so much "free shooter," as "free marksman." It was applied to one who used charmed bullets. The opera is based on legendary superstition and must be enjoyed in the fairy tale spirit. A beautiful overture sums up much of the music. A broad, low unison melody for the whole orchestra leads to a lovely horn passage, rich with the spirit of the woodlands. The night is falling soft and mysterious. A rushing allegro fills us with the doubts of the young hunter-hero; we hear his magic bullets fall into the melting-pot one by one and the terrors of the wolf's glen sweep down upon us.

A lovely melody brings relief, picturing the tender love of the heroine, only to bring fresh dread and distress. But triumph comes at last, and the overture ends with a ringingly melodious climax.

The role of Agatha, the heroine, was chosen for the operatic debut of Jenny Lind, March 7, 1838, at Stockholm.

Mrs. J. C. Liner, Jr. gave a brilliant rendition of Grand Fontasis de Concert from the opera "Der Freischutz." At the conclusion of the program Mrs. Grant served delicious refreshments to the members: Mrs. B. D. Allbritton Mrs. F. V. Allison, Mrs. Grayson Guthrie, Jr., Mrs. H. H. Land, Miss Mary Grace Lawn, Mrs. J. C. Liner, Jr., Mrs. P. L. Perot, Mrs. R. L. Prichard, Mrs. Clyde Sanders, Miss Gertrude Sandrock, Mrs. A. M. Serex, Mrs. Henry Whitfield. Miss Louise Hawkins and Mrs. W. P. Grant, Sr., a guest.

RETURNS TO PENNSYLVANIA

Miss Betty Wamsley, the attractive guest for the past month of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Hayne Wamsley, returned to her home in Folsom, Pa., via airways Saturday morning.

MISS PEGGY JEAN COBB AND MR. JOHN MARVIN GILLESPIE ARE UNITED IN MARRIAGE

In an impressive double-ring ceremony, which was solemnized Saturday evening, October 19, at 7:30 o'clock, Miss Peggy Jean Cobb, charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irma A. Cobb, of Farmerville, became the bride of Mr. John Marvin Gillespie, of Fayette, Miss., son of Mr. and Mrs. Larkin Gillespie also of Farmerville.

The wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents with the Rev. Thomas L. Roberts officiating in the presence of the immediate families and a few close friends.

The reception suite was beautifully decorated with white chrysanthemums, ferns and waxy magnolia branches. Mrs. L. E. Johnson, pianist, played "Love's Old Sweet Song" and "Oh! Promise Me," and accompanied Miss Helen Jean Wilson, who sang, in splendid voice, "Always," while Miss Dawn Taylor, of Shreveport, lighted the candles, which formed a pyramid in a nest of magnolia leaves and other greenery on top of the piano and table. During the ceremony "I Love You Truly" was softly played.

The bride, escorted by her father, was lovely in an original model by Jobart, of lightweight white wool jersey, which was fashioned with bell sleeves and trimmed with gold sequins and pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with a bridal bouquet of white carnations and tuberoses, centered with an orchid, from which fell a shower of white ribbon streamers caught with cascading tuberoses. She wore a wreath of matching flowers in her hair. For something old she wore an antique yellow gold locket that had been in the family of her mother for several generations. During the exchanging of vows the bride and groom stood under an improvised arch intertwined with southern smilax, flanked by tall pedestal baskets overflowing with mammoth white chrysanthemums and fern.

Mrs. Curtis Cook, of Monroe, sister and only attendant of the bride, was stunning in a poudre blue crepe model with a shoulder corsage of yellow chrysanthemums. Mr. Joel Gillespie, of Magnolia, Ark., served his brother as best man. The bride's mother chose for the wedding a distinctive model of navy crepe. Her corsage was yellow chrysanthemums. The mother of the groom wore a dressmaker's suit of luggage brown and a corsage of orchid chrysanthemums. Following the ceremony an informal reception was held. A color scheme of yellow and white predominated in the dining room, where the bride's table reflected considerable artistry, with crystal used exclusively on the polished surface. The wedding cake, a gorgeous three-tiered confection, adorned with crystalized flowers in yellow and white, surmounted with bride and groom figurines, resting on a mirrored plaque, encircled by yellow dahlias, formed the central de cor. White tapers, burning in crystal holders, placed at either end of the table to which white ribbon streamers were attached, extended over the edge of the table. An attractive arrangement of yellow chrysanthemums, ferns and burning white tapers, graced the buffet. Miss Vera Gillespie, sister of the groom presided over the punch bowl, which was at one end of the table. After the bride and groom cut the first slice of cake, Mrs. Byram McKinnie, cousin of the bride, served it to the guests.

In charge of the bride's book was Miss Ruth Hartman, of Monroe.

After the reception, Mr. Gillespie left with his bride for a short wedding trip. On returning they will make their home at Fayette, Miss., where he is employed.

For traveling, Mrs. Gillespie chose a smartly tailored wool suit in leaf green, with orchid corsage, off-the-face brown felt hat, brown gloves and brown lizzard shoes and purse.

The out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Joel Gillespie, of Magnolia, Ark.; Mr. Clifton Gillespie, L. S. U., Baton Rouge; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cobb, El Dorado; Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie B. Cobb and children, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Cook, and Miss Ruth Hartman, Monroe; Miss Dawn Taylor, Shreveport; Mr. Carroll Mitcham and Mr. Newton Smith, Bernice, and Mr. Johnnie Mitchell, Ruston.

Chase-Roach Nuptial Event Of Interest

Claiming interest throughout the state was the marriage of Miss Katherine Neil Chase, daughter of Mr. and Hrs. K. N. Chase of Chase, and Mr. Lonnie Roach, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Roach of Wisner.

The wedding was solemnized at the home of the Rev. W. H. Carroll, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Wisner, with intimate friends present.

Miss Dorothy Chase, the bride's sister and only attendant, wore a distinctive model of black crepe trimmed in sequins, with accessories of black.

The bride wore a beautiful one-piece model of chartreuse wool, sequin trimmed, with accessories of brown. The traditional "something old, something new, something borrowed, something blue," was observed.

Mr. Roach was attended by his brother, Mr. David Roach, Jr.

Immediately following the ceremony the couple left for a brief honeymoon, after which they will be at home with Mr. Roach's aunt, Miss Colie Roach, in Wisner.

One worker out of four in America was a woman in 1940, compared with one out of five in 1920, and one out of seven in 1870.

MISS BRANTLEY BECOMES THE BRIDE OF MR. M. G. WRIGHT IN DOUBLE RING CEREMONY

A beautiful autumn wedding took place at the Emanuel Baptist Church Saturday, October 26, at eight o'clock in the evening, when Miss Sarah Elizabeth Brantley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer H. Brantley, of Crossett, Ark., became the bride of Mr. Marvin George Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Wright, of Rinehart, La.

The impressive double-ring ceremony was performed by the pastor, Rev. N. T. Smith.

A color theme of white and green was reflected in all the decorations. The alter was banked with smilax and clematic and tall floor baskets of white chrysanthemums and ferns were placed at vantage points. White cathedral tapers in seven branched candelabra in tier effect were placed in the rear of the alter. The tapers were lighted by Mr. Eldon Doughty, cousin of the groom, and Mr. C. L. Greer. Guests were seated by the ushers, Mr. Avery T. Wooldridge and Mr. C. L. Greer.

Mrs. Elmer H. Brantley, mother of the bride, wore a beautiful crepe model of navy blue, embroidered with pink roses. She wore a corsage of gardenias. "Because" was beautifully renderd by Mr. William "Buddy" Butler, accompanied by Mrs. C L. Greer, who wore a floor-length model of white marquisette and a corsage of pink carnations. The bridal chorus from "Lohengrin" and the Mendelssohn's wedding march were played as a processional and recessional.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Avery T. Woolridge, served as matron of honor and Misses Marie Durham and Angelene Embanato served as bridesmaids. Mr. June McGough served as best man.

The bridesmaids were charming in old-fashioned models with sweetheart neck lines, puffed sleeves and tight-fitting bodices with full skirts of pastel marquisette. They wore shapelots of sequins and net with short veils. The matron of honor wore a similar model of pink embroidered taffeta and marquisette. They all carried old-fashioned arm bouquets of white chrysanthemums tied with wide, side ribbons.

The bride entered on the arm of her brother, Mr. Travis F. Brantley, who gave her in marriage. She wore a lovely bridal gown of ivory white brocaded satin, fashioned with a tight-fitting bodice and long tight-fitting sleeves. The skirt ended in a court train. Her finger-tip veil of imported tulle was caught to a coronet of pearls and lace. She wore a necklace of pearls. The wedding bouquet was of white carnations, centered with an orchid and tied with white satin ribbons.

For something old she wore a diamond bracelet owned by Miss Marie Durham, and for something borrowed, a beautiful broach, belonging to her mother. For good luck she slipped a sixpence in her wedding slipper.

During the ceremony Mrs. C. L. Greer played "I Love You Truly." Immediately following the ceremony an informal reception was held at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Avery T. Wooldridge.

Floral decorations for the occasion were brought from the bride's mother's own flower garden. They were gardenias and chrysanthemums. The lace-covered refreshment table was centered with a beautifully-embossed wedding cake, flanked by tall white tapers in crystal holders. Presiding at the table were Mrs. Dorris White, sister of the bride, and Miss Ruth Adcock, who served punch and wedding cake.

The couple left for a short honeymoon, and on their return will reside in Monroe.

For traveling the bride wore a handsome fall tailleur of blue wool, with black accessories. Her hat was of pink feathers and her blouse was hand-made and of the same color. She wore a corsage of orchids.

The bride has been employed by the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company for the past two years, and the groom is an employe of the Louisiana Power and Light Company of Sterlington, La.

Out-of-town relatives who attended the wedding were Mr. Eldon Doughty, of Jonesville, La.; Mrs. Elmer H. Brantley, Mrs. Dorris White, Mr. and Mrs. Travis F. Brantley, all of Crossett, Ark.

MISS JULIA WILSON WEDS MR. WARREN C. SEGARS IN IMPRESSIVE CHURCH CEREMONY

When Miss Julia Corrine Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Wilson, walked down the aisle at the First Methodist Church to become the bride of Mr. Warren C. Segars, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Segars, she wore the traditional wedding gown of white satin fashioned with a tight-fitting bodice, deep yoke of imported lace and long, tight-fitting sleeves, puffed at the shoulders. The skirt, long and full, ended in a court train and over it fell the billowing veil of illusion and net. It was caught to the hair with a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried an arm bouquet of white carnations, tube roses and orchids caught with cascades of white satin ribbon. Her father gave her in marriage.

The bride's sister, Miss Ann Wilson, served as maid of honor and Mrs. James Wilson as matron of honor. They wore similar gowns of white lace and net fashioned with hoop skirts. They wore white net bonnets and carried arm bouquets of painted daisies in shades of orchid and pink.

The junior bridesmaids, Diane Wilson and Lynda Cook, wore gowns similar to those worn by the maid and matron of honor and carried round, Colonial bouquets of pink and orchid daisies.

The bridegroom was attended by his father and his groomsmen were, Mr. Homer Houston, Mr. Edward Pettiss and Mr. James Wilson.

The church was beautifully decorated with superb white chrysanthemums banking the altar, the chancel rail and the choir loft. Cathedral tapers gleamed in the background and during the nuptial hour the electrics were lowered and the ceremony was performed by candelight with Dr. A. M. Serex, officiating.

Mrs. John Sholars, organist recended a pre-nuptial concert and accompanied the soloist, Miss Lela Fields, who sang, "Because" and "I Love You Truly."

Mrs. Wilson, the bride's mother walked down the aisle in a black crepe model with deep yoke of aqua marquisette, trimmed in sequins. Her accessories were of black and she wore a fushia-colored feathered hat and corsage of fushia-colored carnations.

The bridegroom's mother wore a Madelon blue crepe model trimmed in narrow Queen Ann lace. Her accessories were of black and she wore a corsage of pink carnations.

A reception was held following the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents on Glenmar. Considerable beauty of decoration was noted in the dining room where the wedding cake was cut by the bride and groom before departing on their honeymoon in Chicago.

The bride's table was beautifully appointed, with silver candelabra supporting white tapers placed at either end. The guests were served frosted punch and individual wedding cakes by Mrs. Leonard Lessenberry, Mrs. Ralph Cook, Mrs. Marvin Gleason and Miss Clovis Creighton.

The bride traveled in a Hunter's green gabardine tailleur with brown accessories and a corsage of orchids.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Paul S. Segars, of Atlanta, Ga.; Mrs. Joseph Moorhead, Greensville, S. C.; Mrs. John Cooke and Miss Linda Cooke, of Memphis, Tenn.; Mrs. Ralph Cooke and Mrs. George Cooke, Wynne, Ark.; Mrs. Leonard Lessenberry and Mrs. Mark McAfee, of Vanndale, Ark.; and Mr. and Mrs. James Wilson and Miss Dianne Wilson, of Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Miss Hair Is Hostess At A Buffet Supper

One of the most colorful social affairs of the Halloween season was the buffet supper party given by Miss Blanche Etta Hair, complimentary to the office personnel of the Frances Hotel at the home of her mother, Mrs. C. B. Hair, who assisted in extending the gracious courtesies.

The Halloween colors were skillfully employed in every detail with bronze-colored chrysanthemums and gold-colored marigolds forming the floral note. The hors d' oeuvres table, reserved for those who enjoyed a cocktail before supper, was candelit and overlaid with orange-colored cloth. The central decor was a jack-o-lantern.

The supper was served buffet style from a candlelit table centrally adorned with a wide spreading plaque of yellow marigolds with yellow tapers burning in their midst.

Silver trays held a luscious assortment of viands.

Miss Hair was assisted in serving by Mrs. Mattie Edney and Mrs. W. W. Harrington.

SOCIALLY ... speaking

Mrs. J. W. McWilliams and Mrs. Charles McCord are spending a few days in Winnfield, La., where they are being delightfully entertained in the home of Mrs. John Peters.

Mrs. Travis Oliver, Mrs. Alfred Reid, Mrs. Arthur Dryburgh and Miss Eve Bradford are spending the week-end in New Orleans. Mrs. Oliver traveled via Delta Air Lines, Miss Bradford via Southern Airlines and Mrs. Reid and Mrs. Dryburgh via rail.

Students of the Louisiana Business College were entertained with a Halloween party by members of the L. B. C. Club. Each guest entered the building via the "torture chamber" and were greeted at the door by ghostly figures.

Lights were lowered and tales of horror related by a group of story tellers.

Refreshments, reminiscent of Halloween, were served throughout the evening.

Mrs. George Snellings' charming mother, Mrs. F. D. Wilcox of New Orleans, was extensively entertained socially during her visit in the Snellings home. One of the gracious courtesies extended was the conversational hour in Mrs. Scott Hamilton's hospitable home on Island Drive. Mrs. John Breard was co-hostess at this time. Other courtesies included bridge parties, luncheons and supper parties. Mrs. Wilcox motored with Mr. and Mrs. Snellings and their two children, George Snellings the third and Nancy Wilcox Snellings, to Dallas, Texas, for a week-end visit. They were joined in Dallas by Mrs. L. P. Milner, Mrs. Henry Bernstein and son, Henry Bernstein, Jr.

Miss Betty Wamsley, attractive guest of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Wamsley, for the past month, returned to her home in Folsom, Pa., via air ways on Saturday.

Mrs. Annie Knight returned home via Southern Airlines from Baton Rouge where she visited her daughter, Mrs. B. H. Grayson, and Mr. Grayson. She also visited friends and relatives in New Orleans and was accompanied home by her granddaughter, Kay Todd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Todd.

A typical Halloween party was enjoyed by members of the Yo-Wo-Ca Club of the Y. W. C. A. at the Recreation Center following supper at a down town cafeteria.

All the games associated with the mystic season were played during the evening with a visit to the "den of horrors," climaxing the program.

Mrs. George Albright, Mrs. P. L. Wallace, Mrs. Dewey Mobley, Mrs. John G. Smith, Mrs. Estelle Brantley, Mrs. Alma Boyette and Mrs. Johnny McCarthy were among those from this state attending the national convention of the Woman's Benefit Association, Oct. 21-24, in Miami, Fla. A sightseeing boat ride on Biscayne Bay was one of the pleasures afforded this group who were guests of the Patricia Hotel.

Prenuptial Events Honor Bride-Elect

Miss McKenzie's Engagement Days Filled With Prenuptial Courtesies

Each day Miss Barbara McKenzie dons one of her attractive trousseau models and attends a charming prenuptial affair in her honor. Last week's activities took her almost completely around the clock with her fiance, Mr. Hollis Venable, sharing in many of the pleasures.

The coffee hour, one of the most popular modes of entertainment these days, plays an important part in the courtesies extended Miss McKenzie. These informal affairs permit the guests to mingle and to enjoy to the fullest the courtesies extended by their hostesses.

Mrs. J. B. Kugler's coffee hour was characterized by many gracious courtesies with beautiful flowers banking the reception suite, offering a colorful setting.

Mrs. Kugler was assisted by Mrs. Lea Thompson, Mrs. C. E. McKenzie and Mrs. H. M. Venable in receiving the guests. Mrs. W. B. Inabnet presided at the beautifully-appointed lace-covered table where silver trays held grilled ham biscuits, toasted cheese sandwiches, wedding ring doughnuts and a variety of pastries.

Luncheon in the home of Mrs. J. Hunter Thatcher with Mrs. R. C. Sparks, co-hostess, was another charming compliment extended Miss McKenzie last week.

The luncheon table, silver serviced, had for central floral decor a handsome Dresden epergne overflowing with white chrysanthemums.

The delicious three-course luncheon featured country-cured ham as the entree. Coffee was poured by the hostess in the living room from handsome silver urns, to the following: Miss McKenzie, Mrs. John Sherrouse, Jr., Mrs. Lea Thompson, Mrs. Leo Terzia, Mrs. Allan Guthrie, Mrs. John Bennett Fudickar, Mrs. Stanley Blower and Mrs. C. E. McKenzie.

Tender, young carrots are scrubbed clean with a stiff brush and not peeled. Not only is this easier than scraping or paring them but it also saves vitamins and minerals.

CUT THEIR WEDDING CAKE

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Hawkins, whose recent marriage was of interest to many friends, cut their wedding cake at the reception following the ceremony at the First Baptist Church, West Monroe. Mrs. Hawkins is the former Miss Norma Lee Staples, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Jake Staples, of Calhoun.

Purely Personals

It was like old Home Week at the Lotus club last week when Francis Barringer entertained with one of the most lavish buffet suppers since prewar days complimentary to his illustrious brother Captain Victor Cameron Barringer who flew from Washington to his old home town to appear as guest speaker on the Navy Day program in this city. The invitation extended by Mr. Barringer included the boyhood friends of Captain Barringer's and they were out en masse not only to welcome their distinguished friend but to enjoy the hospitality extended by Monroe's most genial host. Memories of those sumptuous dinner and supper parties enjoyed by social Monroe before the war have not been blotted out. Last week's supper as in the old days, boasted of huge trays of cold sliced ham and turkey, bowls of luscious salads, hot rolls, pastries and on a side table was a dazzling array of hors d'oeuvres for those who enjoyed a cocktail before supper.

Weddings have been almost too numerous to chronicle these past few months. The prenuptial parties which have kept the brides-to-be and their attendants in a whirl have also been overflowing the calendar of events. We were looking up the records of a fashionable wedding of long ago and was both surprised and amused to find a reference to the fact that, as was customary, the bride did not appear in public after her wedding cards were out until she was seen at the altar.

We have seen brides this past summer who, however lovely we had remembered them before the bridal whirl, looked completely exhausted long before their wedding day. The custom of piling pre-marital entertaining is like a jumble of jackstraws under which the poor bride and her bridegroom are literally crushed. However, the brides-to-be wouldn't have it otherwise. They add up their parties like pearls and the longer the strand the more socially cherished they feel.

It was our good pleasure to meet Mrs. B. U. Hood, a charming little French woman the other day and despite the fact that she was a bride of the first World War and has been living in America ever since has managed to keep that intriguing accent so envied by American women. Mrs. Hood is a native of Paris, France, and met her husband when he was overseas. Mrs. Hood's parents were casualties of the war and when the Germans were pressing on toward Paris she and her sister went to the country to reside on their grandmother's estate. It was at this time she met her future husband and sailed with him to America after peace was declared.

We are surprised that a Little Theatre director hasn't discovered Mrs. Hood and cast her in a prominent role as she is not only lovely to look at but possesses charming little mannerisms definitely Parisian. Her white hair is thick and wavy and her skin fresh and clear. Her eyes sparkle and her smile is really irresistible. In addition to all this she is friendly and possesses a marvelous zest for living that is most refreshing these days when most women are weary with their eternal quest for nylons and meat.

Mr. and Mrs. Hood have a young lady daughter, Miss Jacqueline Hood who is a student at Texas College for Women, and a son, Scott Hood, who is attending Texas A. and M. They will both be home for the Thanksgiving holidays.

Highways, skyways and railways are continually bringing interesting women to Monroe from every section of the world. It is always a pleasure to meet these women and to learn something of the constructive work they are doing. Mrs. Mabel Bassett, for instance of Oklahoma City, a recent visitor is one of the most wide-awake women we have been privileged to meet in many a day. In the matter of years she isn't a young woman but her thought is modern, her mind alert and she is keeping strides with life as it is being lived today. It was our pleasure to learn something of the work she is doing in Oklahoma along welfare lines. Her position as state commissioner of charities and its far reaching connections, is most unique. Her work takes her to prison camps where she closely observes conditions and sees that no form of cruelty exists. She is closely associated with the prisoners and never in all the 24 years she has been engaged in this work has she heard a word of blasphemy or been treated by anything but respect. All of which bears out the old adage that there is honor even among thieves."

Mrs. Bassett visits the mentally ill in the homes set aside by the state of Oklahoma for such cases. She is always made welcome and always leaves a chain of pleasant memories in her wake. Her work also deals with orphans, delinquents and the poor and needy. Many an orphan has been given a square deal by the intervention of Mrs. Bassett in his behalf. The conditions in Oklahoma orphanages have also been improved due to the regular visits of Mrs. Bassett.

Asia Minor for thousands of years has been famous for its Oriental rugs. The Greek play, "Frogs," written by Aristophanes in 400 B. C. tells about a character lolling with a dancing girl on luxurious rugs made in the ancient city of Miletus.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Miss Alma Canning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Canning, whose engagement and approaching marriage to Mr. Wayne Christman, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Christman, is announced today. The wedding will take place November 8 at the Central Baptist Church at 8 p.m.

Of paramount interest today is the announcement of the marriage of Martha Austin Knowles, daughter of Mr. Joseph T. Austin and the late Mrs. Clayton Austin, and Mr. Charles E. Dysart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dysart, of Tyrone, Pa.

The wedding was quietly performed at the Methodist Church in Shreveport by Rev. R. L. Cook in the presence of a few intimate friends on October 19.

The bride wore a beautiful azure blue crepe model with black accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Following a brief honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Dysart returned to Monroe and are now at home to their friends on Auburn Avenue.

Mr. Dysart, a lieutenant in the United States army, has just been released.

Back To School Party Enjoyed By Young Folks

Members of the Youth Fellowship of the First Methodist church were entertained with a typical Halloween party at the educational building where they were greeted by all the dwellers of darkness who walk forth over the land during the mystic season of Halloween.

Each guest was presented with a pencil and pad and requested to identify those who were garbed as witches, ghosts and goblins. The fortune teller's booth was the most popular place of all.

The dining hall was attractively decorated for the occasion with streamers, black cats, owls and sheaves of corn stalks linked together with immense bows of black and orange. The three long tables for the intermediates, seniors and other young people were outlined with strips of black and orange and in the center was placed a horn of plenty overflowing with fruits of the autumn season including clusters of large purple grapes. A delicious turkey dinner was served by candlelight with Mrs. LeNore Jones, presiding as toastmistress. One of the highlights of the dinner hour was the crowning of the king and queen of Halloween, Bobby Preddy and Kathleen Cline.

Dr. A. M. Serex was the principal speaker and injected a note of seriousness in the short prayer following the evening festivities.

A propeller tip may reach the speed of sound when the plane itself is going at a speed of about 450 miles an hour, because the propeller tip has the forward speed of the plane, plus its own speed of rotation through the air.

It is the reaction to the gas bursting out of the nozzle of the jet engine that drives the jet-propelled airplane forward.

HALLOWEEN SEASON OBSERVED BY YOUNGSTERS IN EVERY SECTION OF THE CITY

Never, to our knowledge, has Halloween been celebrated so uproariously and as colorfully in Monroe as this year. We venture to say more young folks shook hands with "Death" and conspired with goblins, witches and black cats than ever before. Children paraded the down-town streets and the residential district in grotesque costumes in the gathering gloom and later in the evening they went joyously and hilariously to Halloween parties all over town.

A group, larger than planned for, attended the story telling hour at the Ouachita Parish Public Library and sat on the edge of their seats while tales of "horror," relative to Halloween, were unfolded by the glib-tongued story teller who was garbed as a witch. The youngsters firmly believed she sailed into Monroe on her broomstick from the dark regions to make her annual visit to this earth.

It was an exuberant group of boys and girls, members of Monroe's younger beau monde, attending Caroline Cummings' Halloween party at the Grace Church parish house. They all came in costume and shuddered in fright when icy hands were extended by "ghosts" to welcome them. The meowing of black cats and the rattle of skeleton bones served as a prelude to the "horrors" to follow. It was an evening of chills and thrills for these youngsters who were afraid to go home in the dark after it was all over.

However the evening wasn't entirely devoted to things of a gruesome nature—there was entertainment aplenty with bobbing for apples, fortune telling, looking in mirrors and all the other things associated with the mystic season, planned for their pleasure.

Without the Halloween celebration much of the spontaneous joy and the "thrills" of childhood would be lost. Grownups would like to see such wholesome pleasures continue until the end of time. However there is another side to Halloween and that side concerns the vandals and the pranksters who are mischief bent and whose sole desire is to destroy property and to commit evil deeds under the cloak of Halloween. These maliciously inclined boys and girls have never known the clean, wholesome pleasures derived from the typical Halloween celebration. They are more to be pitied than censured.

IMPRESSIVE CHURCH CEREMONY UNITES MISS BETTE ANN DAVIS AND MR. JOSEPH M. CLARK

A wedding of widespread interest took place at the Tallulah Methodist Church October 27 at 5 o'clock when Miss Bette Lou Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Winston Davis, became the bride of Mr. Joseph Milton Clark, son of Mrs. C. Cliff Clark, and the late Mr. Clark, of Mound. The Rev. Earl Montgomery of the Church of Christ officiated at the impressive ring ceremony in the presence of a large assembly of relatives and friends.

The church was beautifully decorated with palms, ferns and baskets of white chrysanthemums and white gladioli interspersed with white candles in wrought iron floor candelabra. The chancel rail twined with English ivy and white satin bows that marked the pews reserved for families of the bride and groom completed the decorations.

Mrs. Myles Hopkins, in charge of the nuptial music, accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Francis Jordan, who sang in lovely voice, "O Promise Me" and "Because." The traditional wedding marches were used and during the exchange of vows "Clair de Lune" was played softly.

The bridesmaids, Mrs. D. H. Blackwood, Jr., of Little Rock, and Miss Charline Massey, of Osceola, Ark., cousins of the bride, Mrs. A. L. Sevier, Jr., and Miss Mary Hilma Dale, wore identical floor-length dresses of yellow crepe fashioned with sweetheart neckline and shirred ruffle trim at hips and shoulder and short puff sleeves. They wore halo headdresses to match their costumes and carried bouquets of bronze chrysanthemums and net tied with bronze ribbon. The matron of honor, Mrs. Francis Hayes, wore a gown of aqua moire taffeta made exactly like those of the maids and she carried yellow chrysanthemums. Ednah Margaret Yerger, junior bridesmaid and niece of the groom, wore yellow with aqua trimming and carried yellow chrysanthemums.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a lovely gown of ivory satin made with fitted bodice, bouffant skirt ending in a court train. The deep yoke was of rose point and the long sleeves ending in lily points also had a trimming of rose point. Her finger-tip veil of illusion edged with satin fell from a coronet of seed pearls. For something old she carried an heirloom handkerchief of rose point. She carried white gladioli and tuberoses centered with white orchids.

The bridegroom had as his best man his brother, Will Clark, of Farmerville. The groomsmen were, Rufus Yerger, Andrew Yerger, Trent Palmer and Robert Wiley Gandy, Jr. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Davis wore a black crepe model with trimming of lace and sequins and a corsage of peach-colored gladioli. Mrs. Clark, mother of the groom, wore black crepe and a corsage of pink carnations.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held in the reception suite of the Tallulah Book Club building. The refreshment table with its cut work linen cloth was centered with a handsomely embossed three-tiered wedding cake encircled with miniature white chrysanthemums and fern flanked by white candles in silver candelabra. The bridesmaids served iced punch and individual wedding cakes and salted nuts.

Following the reception Mr. and Mrs. Clark left for a honeymoon in St. Louis and Chicago. The bride traveled in a tailored suit of spice brown with beige accessories and corsage of orchids. The bride is a graduate of the Tallulah High School and attended Ward Belmont and Louisiana State University where she was a member of Alpha Delta Pi sorority. Mr. Clark is a graduate of the Tallulah High School and Louisiana Polytechnic Institute where he was a member of the Kappa Sigma fraternity. He served as a major in the late war and is employed as an engineer with the Louisiana Department of Public Works. The couple will reside here.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Thornton, Mr. and Mrs. George Weathers, III, and Mrs. George Weathers, Jr., of Greenville; Mrs. Walter Clower, of Clarksdale; Richard Clark and Miss Elizabeth Craig, of Osceola, Ark.; and Mrs. Julia Mae Craig, of Little Rock; Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Farr, Miss Jerry Ann Farr and Miss Martha Farr, of Jackson, Miss.; Dr. and Mrs. Lawrence Clark, of Vicksburg; and Mrs. J. R. Clark, of Crosby, Miss., and Mrs. Will Clark, of Farmerville.

THE SALVATION ARMY

THE DOCTRINES OF THE SALVATION ARMY

The following are the principal Doctrines held and taught by The Salvation Army, as set forth in the Foundation Deed, enrolled in the Chancery Division of the High Court of Justice, England, on the 13th of August, 1878, and embodied in all enactments and settlements throughout the world under which its property is held:

1. We believe that the Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments were given by the inspiration of God, and that they only constitute the Divine rule of Christian faith and practice.

2. We believe that there is only one God, who is infinitely perfect, the Creator, Preserver, and Governor of all things.

3. We believe that there are Three Persons in the Godhead—the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost—undivided in essence, co-equal in power and glory, and the only proper object of religious worship.

4. We believe that in the person of Jesus Christ the Divine and human natures are united, so that He is truly and properly God, and truly and properly man.

5. We believe that our first parents were created in a state of innocence, but by their disobedience they lost their purity and happiness; and that, in consequence of their fall, all men have become sinners, totally depraved, and as such are justly exposed to the wrath of God.

6. We believe that the Lord Jesus Christ has, by His suffering and death, made an atonement for the whole world, so that whosoever will may be saved.

7. We believe that repentance towards God, Faith in our Lord Jesus Christ, and regeneration by the Holy Spirit are necessary to Salvation.

8. We believe that we are justified by grace, through faith in our Lord Jesus Christ, and he that believeth hath the witness in himself.

9. We believe that the Scriptures teach that not only does continuance in the favor of God depend upon continued faith in, and obedience to, Christ, but that it is possible for those who have been truly converted to fall away and be eternally lost.

10. We believe that it is the privilege of all believers to be "wholly sanctified," and that "the whole spirit, and soul, and body" may be "preserved blameless unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ." That is to say, we believe that after conversion there remain in the heart of the believer inclinations to evil, or roots of bitterness, which, unless overpowered by Divine grace, produce actual sin; but that these evil tendencies can be entirely taken away by the Spirit of God, and the whole heart, thus cleansed from everything contrary to the will of God, or entirely sanctified, will then produce the fruit of the Spirit only. And we believe that persons thus entirely sanctified may, by the power of God, be kept unblamable and unreprovable before Him.

11. We believe in the immortality of the soul; in the resurrection of the body; in the general judgment at the end of the world; in the eternal happiness of the righteous; and in the everlasting punishment of the wicked.

Why men go right

IT'S HARD to understand the secret springs of human behavior — why some men with apparently all the advantages go wrong.

But The Salvation Army knows from countless thousands of experiences that the "grace of God" will set men right.

Practical material help of every kind is freely given by The Salvation Army to the individual in trouble. But the basis of The Salvation Army's work is changing the hearts of men — showing them how they can get a new direction in their lives.

Our community needs this service which lifts up and rebuilds men and women until finally they can help themselves. Support The Salvation Army — generously.

THE FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
Grammont at Catalpa
Ernest D. Holloway, Pastor

The Sabbath School attendance is on the increase. Were you present? With your presence and interest, our goal will be reached. Without your cooperation, the going will be tough. We have every reason to believe that you will sit in the class of your choice, and hear what the teacher may offer about the lesson. Knowledge of the Word is profitable. Three hundred will be present because of your attendance.

"Building the Church" is the subject of our morning message. When we heed His plan, live according to His principles, and catch a vision of the Christ, who is the eternal Son of God, we are used of Him in the building of His Church. He has no other program than the cooperation of his people.

"The Man of the Mountains" is the theme of the Vesper hour, a worship at five in the afternoon. The second worship of the Lord's Day will be held at five in the afternoon during the month of November. This is done in the hope that the number of worshippers will increase.

A hearty welcome awaits you.

You are invited to worship with us.

When the Gospel is preached to the honest in heart they receive it by faith, but when they obey it labor is required. To practice the Gospel requires time, faith, the heart's affections and a great deal of labor. Here many stop. They hear and believe, but before they go on to practice they begin to think that they were mistaken, and unbelief enters into their hearts. When we get to understand all knowledge, all wisdom, that it is necessary for us to understand in the flesh, we will be like clay in the hands of the potter, willing to be molded and fashioned according to the will of Him who has called us to this great and glorious work, of purifying ourselves and our fellow-beings, and of preparing the nations of the earth for the glory that awaits them through obedience. It is a hell intolerable for a people, a family or a single person to strive to grasp truth with one hand, and error with the other, to profess to walk in obedience to the commandments of God and, at the same time, mingle heart and hand with the wicked. Great peace have they who love the law of the Lord and abide in His commandments. If you wish to receive and enjoy the favor of our Heavenly Father, do His will.

Tarzan

by EDGAR RICE BURROUGHS

TARZAN AND OM-AT QUICKLY RECOVERED FROM THE FLAME'S FIRST BLINDING FLASH, BUT JATO-LUR HAD TO COVER HER EYES.

THE TRAP HAD BEEN SPRUNG. HERE IN A GREAT GROTTO SURROUNDED BY WARRIORS THEIR PLIGHT SEEMED HOPELESS.

THE GROTESQUE FIGURE ON THE THRONE STARED LONG AND EARNESTLY AT HIS CAPTIVES, THEN HE BROKE INTO WILD, SCREAMING LAUGHTER. THE JADE PRIESTESS SHUDDERED.

THE LEADER COMMANDED THEM TO STAND BEFORE THE THRONE. "ALL WHO ENTER THE CAVERN OF THE SACRED FIRE SHALL DIE!" HE SHOUTED. THE MAN IS DEMENTED, TARZAN THOUGHT.

"WE OPPOSE HER WHO RULES IN A-LUR," HE CONTINUED. "WE GATHER STRENGTH TO STRIKE! ARE YOU FRIENDS OR ENEMIES OF JATO-LUR, THE FALSE QUEEN?"

"ENEMIES, O MASKED ONE!" TARZAN RETURNED. "DO YOU NOT SEE THAT WE HOLD JATO-LUR CAPTIVE? WE SEEK OUR FRIEND, TA-DEN, THE TRUE KING!"

THE LEADER SPOKE. "BELIEVE ME, I KNOW YOUR NAMES, TARZAN-JAD-GURU AND OM-AT. YOU HAVE DONE WELL AND SHALL LIVE, BUT DEATH WILL BE THE WOMAN'S REWARD!"

"I WILL KEEP YOU IN SUSPENSE NO LONGER. I WISHED ONLY TO HEAR YOU SPEAK MY ALLEGIANCE. FRIENDS, DO YOU KNOW ME?" AS ONE, TARZAN AND OM-AT SHOUTED: "TA-DEN --THE KING!"

"MY HEART SWELLS WITH JOY TO SEE YOU AGAIN," TA-DEN SAID. "WE THOUGHT YOU WERE WARRIORS FROM A-LUR. WE HAVE SEIZED MANY, SINCE JATO-LUR FORCED US TO FLEE!"

"IT IS MOST FORTUNATE THAT YOU CAPTURED THIS EVIL WOMAN. FOR HER PERFIDY, SHE SHALL RECEIVE THE SEVEN TORTURES OF THE ANCIENTS--"

"I SHALL CHEAT YOU OF YOUR REVENGE!" JATO-LUR SCREAMED IN DEFIANCE.

BEFORE THEY COULD GUESS HER INTENTIONS, THE JADE PRIESTESS STEPPED INTO THE SACRED FLAME. FOR A MOMENT HER FORM GLOWED WITH WHITE INCANDESCENCE --THEN THERE WAS NOTHING BUT THE HISSING FIRE!

SMILIN' JACK

THE FATE OF YO-YO AND EMBER NOW LIES IN THE HANDS OF THE JURY!

I SAY THAT YO-YO AND EMBER ARE GUILTY AS SIN! IT WAS DEFINITELY PROVED THAT THEY BOTH THREATENED JACK'S LIFE IN FRONT OF WITNESSES!

YEAH, AND SUSAN'S TESTIMONY AGAINST HER OWN SISTER, EMBER, AND YO-YO, WAS ENOUGH TO CONVINCE ME THAT THEY'RE GUILTY!

YEAH, BUT IT'S ALL CIRCUM-STANTIAL EVIDENCE!

BAH! WHY, EMBER EVEN ADMITTED DRAWING TH' DIAGRAM THAT SHOWED HOW A PLANE COULD BE SABOTAGED BY WIRING A HAND GRENADE INTO THE LANDING GEAR WELL!

CAP-AAF Air Show NOV 9-10-11 LEXINGTON KENTUCKY

YEAH, AND THEY EVEN BROKE JAIL AND ESCAPED TO MEXICO! THAT'S ADMITTIN' GUILT!

SURE, BUT NOBODY ACTUALLY SAW YO-YO OR EMBER PUT THE GRENADE IN JACK'S PLANE!

NO, BUT THEIR FINGER-PRINTS WERE FOUND ON THE GRENADE! LET'S TAKE ANOTHER VOTE!

I DIDN'T LIKE THE WAY THE JURY LOOKED AT US!

THERE'S SO MUCH EVIDENCE AGAINST US, I'M AFRAID WE'LL GET SENTENCED TO A LONG TERM IN THE PENITENTIARY!

I'M AFRAID SO, TOO, EMBER--- BLAST IT, I'M SO NERVOUS I CAN'T MAKE MY YO-YO STAY ON TH' STRING!

LOCK---TH' JURY IS FILING BACK INTO THE COURT-ROOM NOW---

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN OF THE JURY, HAVE YOU REACHED A VERDICT?

YES, YOUR HONOR, WE HAVE!

---AND WHAT IS YOUR VERDICT?

WE, THE JURY, FIND THE DEFENDANTS---
